AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY MAGAZINE

Devoted to the Science of Religion, the Religion of Science, and the Extension of the Religious Parliament Idea

Editor: Dr. Paul Carus

An Unpartisan Organ of Religious, Ethical, Philosophical and Scientific Expression, Contributed to by the Leaders of Science in all Countries, and by the Leaders of Religion of all Denominations

There is no conflict between religion and science, but there is a conflict between scientific truth and religious dogma. Dogmas are symbols which express religious truth in more or less appropriate allegories. They are not the truth itself. A belief in the letter of dogmas indicates indolence and the lack of genuine religion. The old dogmatism must be surrendered and will have to give place to a higher and more religious conception, which from the methods employed is called "The Religion of Science."

The Monist

A QUARTERLY MAGAZINE

Devoted to the Philosophy of Science

Editor: Dr. Paul Carus

The Philosophy of Science is an application of the scientific method to philosophy. It is a systematization of positive facts; it takes experience as its foundation, and uses the formal relations of experience (mathematics, logic, etc.) as its method. All truths form one consistent system and any dualism of irreconcilable statements indicates a problem arising from either faulty reasoning or an insufficient knowledge of facts. Science always implies Monism, i. e., a unitary world-conception.

"The Monist" also discusses the Fundamental Problems of Philosophy in their Relations to all the Practical Religious, Ethical and Sociological Questions of the Day.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

In the U. S., Canada and Mexico, yearly, postpaid, $2.00; foreign postage, 25 cents additional; single copies, 60 cents. In England and the U. P. U., yearly 6s. 6d.; single numbers, 2s. 6d.

An index covering seventeen years of THE MONIST will be sent to any interested reader, desiring to become acquainted with the work and the standing of its contributors.

DIMOCK (A. W.) Wall Street and the Wilds. Illustrated with photographs. This is Mr. Dimock's story of his own life, but differs from the ordinary autobiography in the sense that it covers a wide diversity of activities and interests. While still a very young man, Mr. Dimock had made a large fortune in Wall Street which he later lost. Along with his financial interests went a great undying interest in camping, shooting, fishing, and wild life generally; he hunted buffalo with the Indians, and knew personally some of the famous plainsmen of his day. At the same time he was intimately acquainted with most of the prominent political, literary, and financial figures of his time. He writes now from the standpoint of a man still active and still interested in life. Among other of his activities Mr. Dimock was one of the first photographers of wild animals in this country and the book includes some samples of his earlier work. Octavo. $3.00 net. Postage 16c.

The Book of the Tarpon. Illustrated with photographs, by Julian A. Dimock. Tarpon fishing is in a class by itself. It is a combination of target practice, bronco busting and high diving. It has all the thrill of hunting a grizzly and none of its danger,—all the charms of blissful idleness on a summer sea with no likelihood of stagnation. Mr. Dimock has followed this sport for years under more different conditions and with greater success than any other man in this country. In a sense he was the discoverer, and this book is the full fruit of his experience. The photographs show every phase of the game from the casting of the bait, down to the ultimate satisfaction when the great fish comes over the side of the canoe. Large 12 mo. $2.00 net. Postage 14c.

DUNCAN (STANLEY) AND GUY THORNE. The Complete Wildfowler. This book covers the entire subject of wildfowling on the British Isles. It is divided into two parts—first dealing with shore shooting and second, punt shooting. This work deals with guns, ammunition, the law affecting wildfowlers, dogs, calling, decoys, habits of wildfowl and shore birds, dangers, and birds met by the wildfowler. Illustrated in color and with diagrams and photographs. Octavo. $3.75 net. Postage 25c.

FENGER (FREDERIC A.) *Alone in the Caribbean. Illustrated. This is a tale of small boat sailing with a vengeance. In a sailing canoe less than 20 feet long, built from his own designs Mr. Fenger sailed from the Barbadoes to the Virgin Islands, the full length of the Lesser Antilles. He camped on lonely beaches, foregathered with the fading remnants of the Caribs, put in at forgotten and dying ports, and dragged up memories of two centuries of life on the Spanish Main. In the course of his wanderings he sailed his little boat over 1,000 miles of blue water and endured all variations of heat and wind, hunger and thirst. It should be a revelation to those for whom the West Indies means only Cuba, Jamaica, and Porto Rico. $2.50 net. Postage, 20 cents.

FOOTNER (HULBERT). New Rivers of the North. This is a story of a trip in a 16-foot canoe from the head of construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific R. R. over Yellowhead Pass and down the Fraser to below Tete Jaune Cache and thence down the Peace River. OUTING ADVENTURE LIBRARY

Edited by Horace Kephart

Here are brought together for the first time the great stories of adventure of all ages and countries. These are the personal records of the men who climbed the mountains, penetrated the jungles, explored the seas and crossed the desert; who knew the chances and took them, and lived to write their own tales of hardship, endurance and achievement. The series will consist of an indeterminate number of volumes—for the stories are myriad. The whole will be edited by Horace Kephart. Each volume answers the test of these questions: Is it true? Is it interesting? The entire series is uniform in style and binding. Among the titles now ready or in preparation are those described on the following pages. Price $1.00 each, net. Postage 10 cents extra.

IN THE OLD WEST, by George Frederick Ruxton. The men who blazed the trail across the Rockies to the Pacific were independent trappers and hunters in the days before the Mexican war. They left no records of their adventures and most of them linger now only as shadowy names. But a young Englishman lived among them for a time, saw life from their point of view, trapped with them and fought with them against the Indians. That was George Frederick Ruxton. His story is our only complete picture of the Old West in the days of the real pioneers, of Kit Carson, Jim Bridger, Bill Williams, the Sublettes, and all the rest of that glorious company of the forgotten who opened the West.

CASTAWAYS AND CRUSOES. Since the beginning of navigation men have faced the dangers of shipwreck and starvation. Scattered through the annals of the sea are the stories of those to whom disaster came and the personal records of the way they met it. Some of them are given in this volume, narratives of men who lived by their hands among savages on forlorn coasts, or drifted helpless in open boats. They range from the South Seas to the Gulf of St. Lawrence, from Patagonia to Cuba. They are echoes from the days when the best that could be hoped by the man who went to sea was hardship and man's-sized work.

CAPTIVES AMONG THE INDIANS. First of all is the story of Captain James Smith, who was captured by the Delawares at the time of Braddock's defeat, was adopted into the tribe, and for four years lived as an Indian, hunting with them, studying their habits, and learning their point of view. Then there is the story of Father Bressani who felt the tortures of the Iroquois, of Mary Rowlandson who was among the human spoils of King Philip's war, and of Mercy Harbison who suffered in the red flood that followed St. Clair's defeat. All are personal records made by the actors themselves in those days when the Indian was constantly at our forefather's doors.

FIRST THROUGH THE GRAND CANYON, by Major John Wesley Powell. Major Powell was an officer in the Union Army who lost an arm at Shiloh. In spite of this, four years after the war he organized an expedition which explored the Grand Canyon of the Colorado in boats—the first to make this journey. His story has been lost for years in the oblivion of a scientific report. It is here rescued and presented as a record of one of the great personal exploring feats, fitted to rank with the exploits of Pike, Lewis and Clark, and Mackenzie.

ADRIFT IN THE ARCTIC ICE-PACK, by Dr. Elisha Kent Kane. Dr. Kane was connected with one of the numerous relief expeditions which went north in the middle of the last century, sailing from New York early in the spring of 1849. They found themselves caught in the ice of Lancaster Sound early in the fall and spent the entire winter driving to and fro across the Sound frozen fast in the ice-pack. Dr. Kane's narrative gives the most vivid and accurate account that has ever appeared of ship life during an arctic winter. He contributes many important observations as to ice and weather conditions. His picture of the equipment and provisions makes rather strange reading in the light of our modern development for exploration purposes.

THE LION HUNTER, by Ronalyn Gordon-Cumming. The author was an Englishman who was among the first of the now numerous tribe of sportsmen writers. Going out to South Africa in the early half of the last century he found a hunting field as yet untouched; antelope roamed the plains like cattle on a western range and lions were almost as numerous as coyotes in the old cattle days. In the course of his wanderings with the handful of natives, he penetrated the far interior of Africa and finally encountered Livingston. His account of his experiences with dangerous game armed only with the old-fashioned muzzle-loaded rifles makes the exploits of modern sportsmen seem almost puny in their safety.

HOBART PASHA, by Augustus Charles Hobart-Hampden. Recollections of one of the most remarkable men of the 19th century. He served in the English Navy from 1835-1863, after which he engaged in blockade running in the interest of the Confederacy, in the prosecution of which he had many close shaves but was never caught. He then entered the Turkish navy, built it up and fought against the Russians. The whole book is filled with thrilling adventures and narrow escapes.

ADVENTURES IN MEXICO, by George Frederick Ruxton. This volume describes Ruxton's second visit to America, but this time he landed at Vera Cruz, from where he went to Mexico City and thence north to the American border. Mexico was then at war with the United States, bandits roamed over the country right up to the gates of the capital, and Indians infested the northern part. Still he made the journey of 2,000 miles, often alone, experiencing many exciting adventures.

WILD LIFE IN THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS, by George Frederick Ruxton. A continuation of Ruxton's ADVENTURES IN MEXICO, from Chihuahua north. In the course of his journey he had to pass through treeless deserts, where he suffered much from lack of water; spent the winter in the Rocky Mountains and finally crossed the United States boundary.

*THE GOLD HUNTER, by J. D. Borthwick. He was an English artist who joined the rush of treasurer seekers to California in 1851. It is a lively description of the voyage via Panama, of San Francisco from its days of the bowie-knife and top-boots to its development into an orderly community, of life (and death) in "the diggings" and of the motely gathering of all nationalities in town and camp, their toil, sports, virtues, crimes and shifting fortunes. The book covers the period from 1851-1856.

GREAT DIVIDE, THE, by Earl Dunraven. Sport and travel in the Upper Yellowstone in the summer of 1874 with George Kingsley and Texas Jack. Stalking the wapiti and bighorn, encounters with grizzlies, camp life at its best and worst, Indians and frontiersmen, the joys of wild life and the pathos of it, the crest of the continent and the vales of "Wonderland," all are depicted by the Earl of Dunraven.

LIFE AMONG THE APACHES, by John C. Cremony. He was interpreter of the United States Boundary Commission and served against the Indians as Major of a California regiment during the Civil War. His personal encounters with the Apaches were of the most desperate nature.

ALL OUTDOORS. A monthly magazine of the outdoors that is made for outdoor men and women. Short, meaty, to-the-point articles tell the "how" of living and playing in the open—whether hunting, fishing, canoeing, camping, ice boating, skiing, swimming, shooting at the traps, or any other outdoor sport. The adventure stories and fiction are the kind that anyone with red blood likes to read. In addition to the great number of articles and stories in ALL OUTDOORS is a feature that alone makes the magazine worth its price—pictures. The best of outdoor pictures are used to illustrate it. And each picture has a long caption of concise information. ALL OUTDOORS is a magazine that not only radiates the spirit of the woods and fields, streams and rivers, but it tells you how to enjoy all these to the fullest. 15 cents a copy. $1.00 a year.

YACHTING. An illustrated monthly magazine devoted to the interest of the man who loves the water —sailing and motor boating. It is written and edited by practical men who have done the things about which they write, if it be a cruise to Labrador, sailing an ocean race or telling how to put a gasoline engine together. Under and through all other features of YACHTING is the call of the water—the bracing, irresistible appeal that has drawn men off shore since the first cockle-shell was set afloat. Once you have heard and answered it you will know why a sailor once is a sailor always—and you will know also why YACHTING should interest you. The most beautiful yachtsman's magazine. 15 cents a copy. $1.75 a year.

OUTING. For more than thirty years the OUTING magazine has been the great outdoor publication of America. Its contributors are national experts in their respective fields. Its articles are recognized as the last word on the subject they treat. Its range is comprehensive, covering the entire outdoor realm from gardening to aviation. In every subject that it touches, whether it be fishing, hunting, golfing, college sports, the country home, sailing, automobiling, dogs or horses, its aim is accuracy plus interest. Every number combines the solid value of sober fact with the alluring thrill of mystery and adventure that still beckons us to the out-of-doors. $3.00 a year, 25c. a copy.

Birth of Esau and Jacob. GENESIS, 26. Isaac denieth his wife.

nations are in thy womb, and two manner of people shall be separated from thy bowels; and the one people shall be stronger than the other people; and the elder shall serve the younger.

24 ¶ And when her days to be delivered were fulfilled, behold, there were twins in her womb.

25 And the first came out red, all over like an hairy garment; and they called his name Esau.

26 And after that came his brother out, and his hand took hold on Esau's heel; and his name was called Jacob: and Isaac was threescore years old when she bare them.

27 And the boys grew: and Esau was a cunning hunter, a man of the field; and Jacob was a plain man, dwelling in tents.

28 And Isaac loved Esau, because he did eat of his venison: but Rebekah loved Jacob.

29 ¶ And Jacob sod pottage: and Esau came from the field, and he was faint:

30 And Esau said to Jacob, Feed me, I pray thee, with that same red pottage; for I am faint: therefore was his name called Edom.

31 And Jacob said, Sell me this day thy birthright.

32 And Esau said, Behold, I am at the point to die: and what profit shall this birthright do to me?

33 And Jacob said, Swear to me this day; and he sware unto him: and he sold his birthright unto Jacob.

34 Then Jacob gave Esau bread and pottage of lentiles; and he did eat and drink, and rose up, and went his way: thus Esau despised his birthright.

CHAPTER 26.

1 Isaac because of famine went to Gerar. 2 God instructeth, and blesseth him. 7 He is reproved by Abimelech for denying his wife. 12 He groweth rich. 18 He diggeth Esek, Sitnah, and Rehoboth. 26 Abimelech maketh a covenant with him at Beer-sheba. 34 Esau's wives.

AND there was a famine in the land, beside the first famine that was in the days of Abraham. And Isaac went unto Abimelech king of the Philistines unto Gerar.

2 And the LORD appeared unto him, and said, Go not down into Egypt; dwell in the land which I shall tell thee of:

3 Sojourn in this land, and I will be with thee, and will bless thee; for unto thee, and unto thy seed, I will give all these countries, and I will perform the oath which I sware unto Abraham thy father;

4 And I will make thy seed to multiply as the stars of heaven, and will give unto thy seed all these countries; and in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed;

5 Because that Abraham obeyed my voice, and kept my charge, my commandments, my statutes, and my laws.

6 ¶ And Isaac dwelt in Gerar:

7 And the men of the place asked him of his wife; and he said, She is my sister: for he feared to say, She is my wife; lest, said he, the men of the place should kill me for Rebekah; because she was fair to look upon.

8 And it came to pass, when he had been there a long time, that Abimelech king of the Philistines looked out at a window, and saw, and, behold, Isaac was sporting with Rebekah his wife.

9 And Abimelech called Isaac, and said, Behold, of a surety she is thy wife: and how saidst thou, She is my sister? And Isaac said unto him, Because I said, Lest I die for her.

10 And Abimelech said, What is this thou hast done unto us? one of the people might lightly have lien with thy wife, and thou shouldest have brought guiltiness upon us.

11 And Abimelech charged all his people, saying, He that toucheth this man or his wife shall surely be put to death.

12 Then Isaac sowed in that land, and received in the same year an hundredfold: and the LORD blessed him.

13 And the man waxed great, and went forward, and grew until he became very great:

14 For he had possession of flocks, and possession of herds, and great store of servants: and the Philistines envied him.

15 For all the wells which his father's servants had digged in the days of Abraham his father, the Philistines had stopped them, and filled them with earth.

16 And Abimelech said unto Isaac, Go from us; for thou art much mightier than we.

17 ¶ And Isaac departed thence, and pitched his tent in the valley of Gerar, and dwelt there.

18 And Isaac digged again the wells of water, which they had digged in the days of Abraham his father; for the Philistines had stopped them after the death of Abraham: and he called their names after the names by which his father had called them.

19 And Isaac's servants digged in the valley, and found there a well of springing water.

20 And the herdmen of Gerar did strive with Isaac's herdmen, saying, The water is our's: and he called the not: and he called the name of it Rehoboth; and he said, For now the LORD hath made room for us, and we shall be fruitful in the land.

23 And he went up from thence to Beersheba.

24 And the LORD appeared unto him the same night, and said, I am the God of Abraham thy father: fear not, for I am with thee, and will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for my servant Abraham's sake.

25 And he builded an altar there, and called upon the name of the LORD, and pitched his tent there: and there Isaac's servants digged a well.

26 ¶ Then Abimelech went to him from Gerar, and Ahuzzath one of his friends, and Phichol the chief captain of his army.

27 And Isaac said unto them, Wherefore

Christ's sermon ST. MATTHEW 6. on the mount.

CHAPTER 6.

TAKE heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven.

2 Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth:

4 That thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret himself shall reward thee openly

5 ¶ And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

6 But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

7 But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

8 Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

9 After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.

10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven.

11 Give us this day our daily bread.

12 And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and 16 ¶ Moreover when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

17 But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face;

18 That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

19 ¶ Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal:

20 But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal:

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light.

23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness!

24 ¶ No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

25 Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?

26 Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?

Exhortations PSALMS. to praise God.

hath he given to the children of men.

17 The dead praise not the LORD, neither any that go down into silence.

18 But we will bless the LORD from this time forth and for evermore. Praise the LORD.

PSALM 116.

1 The psalmist professeth his love and duty to God for his deliverance. 12 He studieth to be thankful.

I LOVE the LORD, because he hath heard my voice and my supplications.

2 Because he hath inclined his ear unto me, therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.

3 The sorrows of death compassed me, and the pains of hell gat hold upon me: I found trouble and sorrow.

4 Then called I upon the name of the LORD; O LORD, I beseech thee, deliver my soul.

5 Gracious is the LORD, and righteous; yea, our God is merciful.

6 The LORD preserveth the simple: I was brought low, and he helped me.

7 Return unto thy rest, O my soul; for the LORD hath dealt bountifully with thee.

8 For thou hast delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling.

9 I will walk before the LORD in the land of the living.

10 I believed, therefore have I spoken: I was greatly afflicted:

11 I said in my haste, All men are liars.

fice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the LORD.

18 I will pay my vows unto the LORD now in the presence of all his people,

19 In the courts of the LORD's house, in the midst of thee, O Jerusalem. Praise ye the LORD.

PSALM 117.

An exhortation to praise God for his mercy and truth.

O PRAISE the LORD, all ye nations: praise him, all ye people.

2 For his merciful kindness is great toward us: and the truth of the LORD endureth for ever. Praise ye the LORD.

PSALM 118.

1 An exhortation to praise God for his mercy. 5 The psalmist by his experience sheweth how good it is to trust in God. 19 Under the type of the psalmist the coming of Christ in his kingdom is expressed.

O GIVE thanks unto the LORD; for he is good: because his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Let Israel now say, that his mercy endureth for ever.

3 Let the house of Aaron now say, that his mercy endureth for ever.

4 Let them now that fear the LORD say, that his mercy endureth for ever.

5 I called upon the LORD in distress: the LORD answered me, and set me in a large place.

6 The LORD is on my side; I will not fear: what can man do unto me?

7 The LORD taketh my part with them that help me: therefore shall I see my desire upon them that

CHAPTER 3.

NOW the serpent was more subtil than any beast of the field which the LORD God had made. And he said unto the woman, Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?

2 And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden:

3 But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.

4 And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die:

5 For God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life:

15 And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel.

16 Unto the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy conception; in sorrow thou shalt bring forth children; and thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee.

17 And unto Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree, of which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it: cursed is the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the David's confidence in God. PSALMS. His manner of blessing God.

2 From the end of the earth will I cry unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed: lead me to the rock that is higher than I.

3 For thou hast been a shelter for me, and a strong tower from the enemy.

4 I will abide in thy tabernacle for ever: I will trust in the covert of thy wings. Selah.

5 For thou, O God, hast heard my vows: thou hast given me the heritage of those that fear thy name.

6 Thou wilt prolong the king's life: and his years as many generations.

8 Trust in him at all times; ye people, pour out your heart before him: God is a refuge for us. Selah.

9 Surely men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie: to be laid in the balance, they are altogether lighter than vanity.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.

11 God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God.

12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for thou renderest to every God's providence and justice. PSALMS. David prayeth for grace.

16 The LORD is King for ever and ever: the heathen are perished out of his land.

17 LORD, thou hast heard the desire of the humble: thou wilt prepare their heart, thou wilt cause thine ear to hear:

18 To judge the fatherless and the oppressed, that the man of the earth may no more oppress.

will we prevail; our lips are our own: who is lord over us?

5 For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith the LORD; I will set him in safety from him that puffeth at him.

6 The words of the LORD are pure words: as silver tried in a furnace of earth, purified seven times.

7 Thou shalt keep them, O LORD, thou shalt preserve them from this generation for ever.

OXFORD PICTORIAL PALESTINE BIBLES

THE OXFORD PICTORIAL PALESTINE BIBLE

The originators of this new Pictorial Bible hope they may claim to fill a want. There are many illustrated Bibles. Some contain copies from the Old Masters, and grand as these pictures are in color and artistic skill, no one would venture to say they are correct either as to place or costume. Other editions contain modern pictures drawn by very capable artists unfamiliar with the East. Some Bibles are full of pictures of supposed occurrences, but to our mind, no legend or tradition should be pictorially represented in a Bible. In this volume neither artist has made any attempt to illustrate by picture the Divine Christ, but to depict existing customs, which throw light on Bible statements. IN THIS BIBLE, THE PICTURES, WHATEVER MERIT OR DEMERIT THEY MAY HAVE, ARE AT LEAST TRUE.

OXFORD REFERENCE BIBLES

(WITHOUT TEACHERS' HELPS)

The specimen below illustrates the features of the references to be found in all Oxford Reference, Concordance, and Teachers' Bibles. In verse 37 will be found a letter [i] next to the word "Thou." In the reference column in the centre under [i] there are four references where a similar thought may be found. In the nineteenth verse, next to the word "penny," is a figure [2]. This guides to a reference under the same figure, which gives the modern equivalent to the Galilean penny. In the 20th verse, next to "superscription," is the figure [3], which guides to an alternative reading in the reference column.

Much light is thrown on many difficult passages by using the references connected with them; in fact, there is no more fruitful method of "searching the Scriptures" than by following out various thoughts by this system.

Specimen of Oxford References

wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?
19 Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a [2]penny.
20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and [3] superscription?
21 They say unto him, Cæ'-sär's. Then saith he unto them, [k] Render therefore unto Cæ'-sär the things

[i] Deut. 6. 5. & 10. 12. & 30. 6. Luke 10. 27.
[2] In value sevenpence halfpenny: ch. 20. 2.
[3] or, inscription
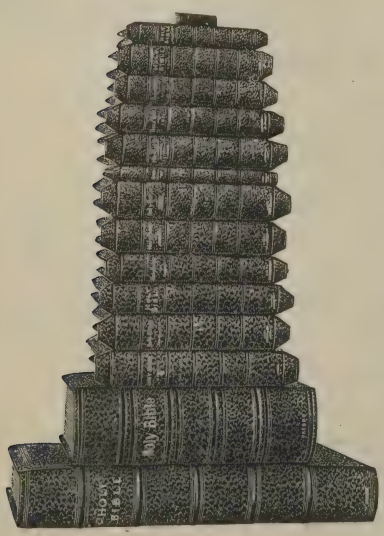
[k] ch. 17. 25. Rom. 13. 7.
[l] Lev. 19. 18.

37 Jē'-sŭs said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.
38 This is the first and great commandment.
39 And the second is like unto it, [l] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.



This pyramid was made by placing on top of each other one of each distinctive style of Oxford Bible which has been issued. Each of them can be had in a number of sizes of type and styles of binding, so these fifteen books really correspond to over 500 different numbers.

Early in the seventeenth century the Oxford Press began making Bibles, and has continued doing so to this time, making it the oldest publishing house in existence. Over 1,000,000 copies of the Oxford Bible are produced every year, not to mention Testaments and Prayer Books and Hymnals.

OXFORD BIBLES WITH APOCRYPHA

OXFORD BIBLES with the APOCRYPHA

The Apocryphal books derive their name from a Greek word meaning hidden, of unknown authority or spurious. While not included in most editions of the Bible they are valuable to be read for historical purposes, "for example of life and instruction of manners." When included in the Bible they are placed between the Old and New Testaments.

RECENTLY ISSUED

AN ENTIRELY NEW SERIES OF

Oxford Teachers' Bibles

With New and Up-to-Date Helps, Arranged Under One Alphabet

The Only Teachers' Bible made with 20th Century Helps

Being a Practical Bible Dictionary, Including Index, Concordance, Glossary, Weights, Measures, Coins, Botany, Etc., Etc.

ARRANGED UNDER ONE ALPHABET WITH NEW ILLUSTRATIONS

THE HELPS in this new Series of Teachers' Bibles have been thoroughly revised by English and American scholars, so as to embody the results of the most recent researches. For the greater convenience of teacher and student the information given in the forty-seven alphabetical lists of the Helps has been rearranged in a single alphabetical order, so that any subject about which information is required may be instantly found in its proper alphabetical place, without the necessity of reference to an index, or of search in a table of contents.

But though the arrangement is that of a Dictionary, the CYCLOPEDIC HELPS are much more than a word-book, for many of the cyclopedic articles of the Helps are included, each in its alphabetical place, and wherever it is necessary cross references to these are given under the more special entries. For instance, each weight, measure, and coin is entered in its own place in the general alphabetical order, and under each entry a reference is given to the general articles, such as Weights, Measures, or Coins, in which further information will be found. Of the illustrations, some have been taken from the "Bible Illustrations" which have appeared in recent issues of the Oxford Helps, and nothing has been included that is not authentic beyond all possibility of doubt. The pictures of scenes in Bible Lands are from photographs recently taken by M. Bonfils, and are reproduced with his permission. A new series of maps, fifteen in all, is included in the volume.

These new Helps doubly strengthen the position which the OXFORD TEACHERS' BIBLE has always held as

"The Bible par excellence of the World"

PAUL, a servant of Jesus Christ, [c] called to be an apostle, [f] separated unto the gospel of God,

2 ([g] Which he had promised afore [i] by his prophets in the holy scriptures,)

3 Concerning his Son Jesus Christ our Lord, [l] which was made of the seed of David according to the flesh;

4 And [3] declared to be [m] the Son of God with power, according [p] to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead:

13 Now I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that oftentimes I purposed to come unto you, (but [b] was let hitherto,) that I might have [d] some [e] fruit [2] among you also, even as among other Gentiles.

14 [h] I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the [k] Barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise.

15 So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For [n] I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for [o] it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to [r] the Jew first, and also

NOTE ON THE MARKINGS

It is claimed for this book that it goes further in this direction than any previous book, and that it also indicates the pronunciation of certain other words, such as "leviathan," "homer," "cherub," etc., which cannot be called proper names, but which might present difficulties to an unskilled reader.

The Philistines I. SAMUEL, 6. send back the ark.

And they answered, Let the ark of the God of Ĭs'-rā-ĕl be carried about unto Gāth. And they carried the ark of the God of Ĭs'-rā-ĕl about thither.

9 And it was so, that, after they had carried it about, [c]the hand of the LORD was against the city [d]with a very great destruction: and [f]he smote the men of the city, both small and great, and they had emerods in their secret parts.

10 ¶ Therefore they sent the ark of God to Ĕk'-rŏn. And it came to pass, as the ark of God came to Ĕk'-rŏn, that the Ĕk'-rŏn-ītes cried out, saying, They have brought about the ark of the God of Ĭs'-rā-ĕl to [4]us, to slay us and our people.

11 So they sent and gathered together all the lords of the Phĭl'-ĭs-tīnes, and said, Send away the ark of the God of Ĭs'-rā-ĕl, and let it go again to his own place, that it slay [6]us not, and

6 Wherefore then do ye harden your hearts, [a]as the Ē-gўp'-tĭăns and Phâr'-āoh hardened their hearts? when he had wrought [2]wonderfully among them, [b]did they not let [3]the people go, and they departed?

7 Now therefore make [e]a new cart, and take two milch kine, [g]on which there hath come no yoke, and tie the kine to the cart, and bring their calves home from them:

8 And take the ark of the LORD, and lay it upon the cart; and put [h]the jewels of gold, which ye return him for a trespass offering, in a coffer by the side thereof; and send it away, that it may go.

9 And see, if it goeth up by the way of his own coast to [i]Bĕth-shē'-mĕsh, then [5]he hath done us this great evil: but if not, then [k]we shall know that it is not his hand that smote us: it was a chance that happened to us.

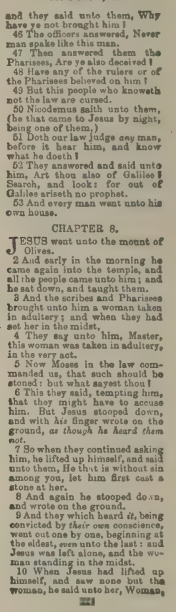
OXFORD NEW TESTAMENTS

(1611 Version)



ST. JOHN, 8.

and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?
46 The officers answered, Never man spake like this man.
47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived?
48 Have any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed on him?
49 But this people who knoweth not the law are cursed.
50 Nicodemus saith unto them, (he that came to Jesus by night, being one of them,)
51 Doth our law judge any man, before it hear him, and know what he doeth?
52 They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and look: for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.
53 And every man went unto his own house.

CHAPTER 8.

JESUS went unto the mount of Olives.
2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them.
3 And the scribes and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the midst,
4 They say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.
5 Now Moses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou?
6 This they said, tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.
7 So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.
8 And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground.
9 And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.
10 When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman,

THE MARKED NEW TESTAMENT

The Selection of Texts has been examined and approved by leading Bible students of different denominations, including Episcopalians, Methodists, Baptists, Congregationalists, Presbyterians, Friends, who reported as follows:

"We are of opinion that the Marked Testament will be very helpful in mission work, and to mission workers. Having examined the texts selected for marking, we consider that they are judiciously chosen for the purpose, and are not likely to give rise to controversy."

Christians obliged ROMANS, 6. to holiness.

19 For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.
20 Moreover the law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did much more abound:

11 Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.
12 Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.

THE COMPANION BIBLE

THE COMPANION BIBLE

Being the Authorized Version of 1611 with THE STRUCTURES and Notes, Critical, Explanatory, and Suggestive. In Six Parts. (Parts I–V now ready) Part VI in the press

It is called "The Companion Bible" because its wide Margin is intended to be a Companion to the Text; and the whole is designed to be the Companion of all readers of the Bible.

The Structures are not mere Analyses evolved from the Text by human ingenuity but are a Symmetrical Exhibition of the Word itself, which may be discerned by the humblest reader of the Sacred Text; and seen to be one of the most important evidences of the Divine Inspiration of its words.

These Structures constitute a remarkable phenomenon peculiar to Divine Revelation; and found in no other form of known literature outside the Sacred Text.

The structure of each book of the Bible is given at the beginning of each book, and all the succeeding structures are the expansion of this. Each structure is referred back to the page containing the larger member, of which it is an expansion or development. The large members, forming a telescopic view of the whole book, are thus expanded, divided and subdivided, until chapters and paragraphs and even verses and sentences, are seen to form part of a wondrous whole, giving a microscopic view of its manifold details.

Part I. Pentateuch, with 52 Appendixes. 363 pages.
Part II. Joshua to Job, with 10 Appendixes. 440 pages.
Part III. Psalms to the Song of Solomon, with 14 Appendixes. 234 pages.
Part IV. Isaiah to Malachi, with 16 Appendixes. 393 pages.
Part V. The Gospels, with 85 Appendixes. 200 pages.

"After mature reflection it was determined to use the Authorized Version. None of the many Revisions have commended themselves to the public at large. The Revised Version, which has now been before the public for twenty-seven years, gives no indication of becoming in any general sense the people's Bible of the English-speaking world. Such emendations of the text as scholarship demands have been placed in the margins of this edition, which therefore combines the dignity, the high religious value, the tender associations of the past, the literary beauty and remarkable general accuracy of the Authorized Version, with the results of the best textual scholarship."

FEATURES OF THE SCOFIELD REFERENCE BIBLE

1. All the great words of Scripture are clearly defined.
2. Chain references, with final summaries, cover all the great topics of Scripture.

5. Apparent contradictions reconciled and explained.
6. The types are explained and illustrated by N. T. references.
7. The Greater Covenants are analyzed and explained. All Scriptures gather around these covenants.
8. The prophecies are harmonized, thus becoming self-explanatory.
9. The text is the Authorized, or King James Version, with emendations in the margin where needed.
10. Type: black-faced, imported Clarendon.

CHAPTER 4.

(4) Justification by faith illustrated.

WHAT shall we say then that Abraham our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found?

2 For if Abraham were [a]justified by [1]works, he hath whereof to glory; but not before God.

3 For what saith the scripture? Abraham [b]believed [c]God, and it was [d]counted unto him for [e]righteousness.

4 Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of [f]grace, but of debt.

(5) Justifying faith defined. (See also vs. 18–21.)

5 But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his [g]faith is [d]counted for righteousness.

6 Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man, unto whom God [d]imputeth righteousness without works,

7 Saying, Blessed are they whose [h]iniquities are [i]forgiven, and whose [h]sins are covered.

8 Blessed is the man to whom the [j]Lord will not [d]impute sin.

(6) Justification is apart from ordinances.

9 Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.

10 How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.

11 And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be [d]imputed unto them also:

12 And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had being yet uncircumcised.

(7) Justification is apart from the law.

13 For the promise, that he should be the heir of the [k]world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.

14 For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect:

15 Because the law worketh wrath: for where no law is, there is no [h]transgression.

16 Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the [l]law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham; who is the father of us all,

17 (As it is written, I have made thee a father of many nations,) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not as though they were.

18 Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations; according to that which was spoken, [m]So shall thy seed be.

19 And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about an hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sarah's womb:

20 He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God;

21 And being fully persuaded that, what he had promised, he was able also to perform.

22 And therefore it was [d]imputed to him for righteousness.

23 Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was [n]imputed to him;

24 But for us also, to whom it shall be [o]imputed, if we believe on him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead;

25 Who was delivered for our

[e] Righteousness. vs. 5, 6, 9, 11, 13, 22. See Rom. 3. 22, note.

[f] Grace (in salv.). vs. 4, 5, 16; Rom. 5. 2, 15–21. (Rom. 3. 24; John 1. 17.)

[g] Faith. Rom. 4. 16. (Gen. 3. 20; Heb. 11. 39.)

[n] i.e. reckoned.

[o] Imputation. vs. 6, 8, 9, 10, 11, 23, 24; Rom. 5. 13. (Lev. 25. 50; Jas. 2. 23.)

[1] Cf. Jas. ii. 24. These are two aspects of one truth. Paul speaks of that which justifies man before God, viz. faith alone, wholly apart from works; James of the proof before men, that he who professes to have justifying faith really has it. Paul speaks of what God sees—faith; James of what men see—works, as the visible evidence of faith. Paul draws his illustration from Gen. xv. 6; James from Gen. xxii. 1–19. James' key-phrase is "ye see" (Jas. ii. 24), for men cannot see faith except as manifested through works.

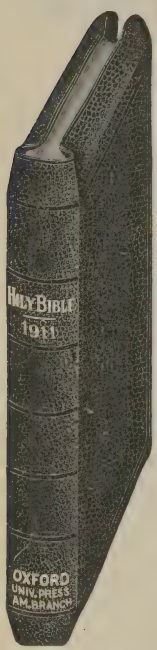
"At last a Bible has been produced which has met with unusual favor"



THE HERALD AND PRESBYTER, September 13, 1911:

"We believe, unqualifiedly, that the 1911 Bible is far the best translation ever given the English-speaking people, and the worthiest of their confidence and affection."

THE 1911 BIBLE

Being the Authorized Version of 1611, with the Text Carefully Amended by American Scholars

OTHER FEATURES

- A New System of Chain References
- A New System of Collected References
- A New System of Paragraphs
- The Old Familiar Verse Form Retained

Beautifully printed on Fine White and the Famous Oxford India Papers, with Oxford Brevier Black-faced Type

The Distinctive Features of the Present Edition Are:

I. A text which has been carefully corrected, in the light of the best modern research, by eminent American scholars.

II. The familiar verse form has been retained.

III. A new method of paragraphing. All readers of the Bible know the importance of observing the paragraphs. These, obscured in part by the division of the text into verses, are in the present edition brought into great distinctness by simply leaving a narrow blank space between the paragraphs, so that the verses that make up any paragraph are slightly separated from the group of verses composing the preceding and the following paragraphs. It is surprising to how great a degree the interest of the reader is aroused and held by this simple expedient.

IV. A system of chain references, specially prepared by Rev. C. I. Scofield, D.D., Editor of the Scofield Reference Bible, tracing through the whole Bible the greater themes of the Divine revelation from their first clear emergence to the final and complete form in the New Testament. This will be found of especial value to students of the Bible.

V. A new collected-reference system, the plan of which is to concentrate at the passage where a word is used in its most characteristic sense, the more important occurrences of that word elsewhere in the Bible. At all other places where the word occurs there is a reference to the central passage. No other reference plan so facilitates the illustration of Scripture by Scripture.

VI. The Oxford Black-faced Type has been used, making the page clear and legible. All readers of the Bible will appreciate the ease with which this type can be read.

VII. Beautifully printed on Fine White and the famous Oxford India Papers. No other paper can compare with the Oxford India Paper in its wonderful opacity. Although it is the thinnest paper used for printing, the impression does not show through to the other side, and it is so strong that it can be used for years without showing signs of wear.

"The 1911 Bible is far the best translation ever given the English-speaking people, and the worthiest of their confidence and affection"

MORNING PRAYER. 9

Through the tender mercy of our God : whereby the day-spring from on high hath visited us;
To give light to them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death : and to guide our feet into the way of peace.

Jubilate Deo. Psalm c.

O BE joyful in the LORD, all ye lands : serve the LORD with gladness, and come before his presence with a song.
Be ye sure that the LORD he is God : it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves : we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.
O go your way into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise : be thankful unto him, and speak good of his Name.
For the LORD is gracious, his mercy is everlasting : and his truth endureth from generation to generation.

4 Soon shall end the time of weeping,
Soon the reaping time will come;
Heaven and earth together keeping
God's eternal Harvest Home.
Saints and angels
Shout the world's great Harvest Home.

251 L. M.

LOOK from Thy sphere of endless day,
O God of mercy and of might!
In pity look on those who stray,
Benighted in this land of light.

2 In peopled vale, in lonely glen,
In crowded mart, by stream or sea,
How many of the sons of men
Hear not the message sent from Thee!

3 Send forth Thy heralds, Lord, to call
The thoughtless young, the hardened old
A scattered, homeless flock, till all
Be gathered to Thy peaceful fold.

4 Send them Thy mighty word to speak,
Till faith shall dawn and doubt depart,
To awe the bold, to stay the weak,
And bind and heal the broken heart.

5 Then all these wastes, a dreary scene
That makes us sadden as we gaze,
Shall grow with living waters green,
And lift to heaven the voice of praise.

252 7.6.

THE morning light is breaking;
The darkness disappears;
The sons of earth are waking
To penitential tears;

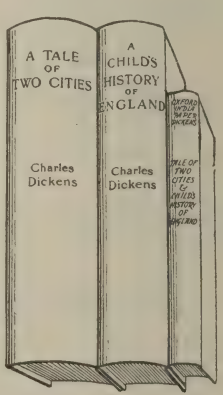
56 THE PICKWICK CLUB

"Gentleman in the coffee-room, sir," replied the Boots, as Mr. Winkle opened the door, and confronted him; "gentleman says he'll not detain you a moment, sir, but he can take no denial."

"Very odd!" said Mr Winkle; "I'll be down directly."

He hurriedly wrapped himself in a travelling-shawl and dressing-gown, and proceeded down-stairs. An old woman and a couple of waiters were cleaning the coffee-room, and an officer in undress uniform was looking out of the window. He turned round as Mr. Winkle entered, and made a stiff inclination of the head. Having ordered the attendants to retire, and closed the door very carefully, he said, "Mr. Winkle, I presume?"



With nearly 700 Illustrations by Cruikshank, "Phiz," etc.
In Twenty Volumes. Each Volume can be obtained separately

Includes all the additional stories and sketches which appear in the GADSHILL and AUTHENTIC EDITIONS. In addition to some PORTRAITS OF CHARLES DICKENS, upwards of SIX HUNDRED ILLUSTRATIONS will be given, being reproductions from the originals by Seymour, "Phiz," George Cruikshank, F. Walker, Sir Edward Landseer, R.A., D. Maclise, R.A., John Leech, Marcus Stone, George Cattermole, S. Luke Fildes, R.A., C. Stanfield, R.A., J. OXFORD TEACHERS' BIBLES

PAPER, PRINTING, HELPS, ILLUSTRATIONS

IN ADVANCE OF ALL OTHERS

"Since 1880 the Oxford Teachers' Bible has been acknowledged the greatest book marvel of modern times. The publishers have just brought out an edition with revised Helps which again puts this work clearly in advance of all others." —Sunday-School Magazine.

THE PAPER

"The India paper, in which we believe this company leads the world, has made a revolution in the art of printing."—The Living Church.

No other paper has yet been made that can approach it for its wonderful opacity, great toughness and softness, and its agreeable tone, nor for the ease with which

THE PAGES CAN BE TURNED

A distinguishing characteristic of the Oxford India paper, as compared with all so-called India paper, is that the impression on one side does not show through when the other side is being read.

THE PRINTING

"Its letterpress is remarkably clear and distinct. This is appreciated the more because it is uncommon in Bibles. Long and close attention to the print of ordinary Bibles strains the strongest eyes, but the Oxford is not an ordinary Bible in this or in any other respect."—The Christian Nation.

THE HELPS

Rev. F. N. Peloubet, D.D., Author of "Peloubet's Notes on the International Lessons," says:

"I have been comparing the two editions of the Oxford Helps, your new one with mine dated 1893. Your appendix, and especially the new plates, and more especially the descriptions of them, which are a wholly new feature, add greatly to the value of these Helps. I shall refer to them as often as I can in my 'Notes on the Lessons.' "

The Christian Advocate, Nashville, Tenn.

"The Helps are real helps. Unlike those in many of the cheap Bibles, they are not simply thrown together in hodge-podge fashion, but represent the freshest and ablest work of the foremost modern scholars."

The Interior, Chicago, Ill.

"Helps prepared for this work by the most eminent Biblical scholars of the day, and revised up to the latest possible date, to keep in touch with the last discoveries of science, the last lights of interpretation. This edition has reached, in former issues, a sale of over two million copies, and it is safe to say that nothing offers even fair competition with it in general favor."

THE ILLUSTRATIONS

The Sunday-School Times

Referring to the illustrations:—"In this department this Bible is probably far superior to any other of those commonly called Teachers' Bibles. Probably there does not exist another equally compact collection of the kind."

"Mr. Shelley gives a most interesting account of those ancient fortresses which from the days of William the Conqueror either were the homes of English sovereigns or have been intimately associated with the history and romance of their lives. *THE CASTLES AND KEEPS OF SCOTLAND.

By Frank Roy Fraprie, author of "Among Bavarian Inns," etc.

Much of the thrilling history and romance of the Middle Ages is necessarily connected with the castles and keeps which are the subject of this volume. Edinburgh Castle and Holyrood Palace, haunted by a myriad of memories; Castle Doune, the most picturesque relic of feudal days; Stirling, the most famous castle of them all, are only a few of the historic piles mentioned, once the strongholds of the Scottish nation.

"There is hardly a ruin in Scotland but has a literature of its own. But to pick out what is most interesting and offer it in popular form with a pictorial obligato is a task worth while, and Mr. Fraprie has already shown by his book on Bavaria that he is well qualified to undertake it." — *Springfield (Mass.) ISABEL ANDERSON
(MRS. LARZ ANDERSON)

*THE SPELL OF JAPAN.

By Isabel Anderson (Mrs. Larz Anderson).

It could not have breathed a more conciliatory and friendly spirit, and its simple and engaging style cannot fail to win golden opinions for its talented author." — Nathan Haskell Dole.

"The book shows that Mrs. Anderson was fully alive to her opportunities. She kept her eyes very wide open wherever she may have wandered. The result is that we get a rather fresh viewpoint on Japan, and a book which is of more than usual interest. Altogether, the book is rather out of the ordinary." — The Montreal Daily Star, Montreal, Can.

TWO VOLUMES ON BELGIUM

*THE SPELL OF BELGIUM.

By Isabel Anderson (Mrs. Larz Anderson).

By Burton E. Stevenson.

The late Mayor Gaynor of New York wrote: "This is one of the most delightful books of travel that I have ever read."

THE SPELL OF ENGLAND.

By Julia dewolf Addison.

"Delightfully chatty, taking us straight to the 'heart' of England, and roaming in and out of unfrequented places, full of legendary interest, and, best of all, presenting pictures of rural life which the ordinary tourist wholly passes by." — The Boston Herald.

*THE SPELL OF FRANCE.

By Caroline Atwater Mason.

"Both in style and substance 'The Spell of France' lives up to its title. It confirms anew Mrs. Mason's rare power of conveying the charm of a storied land undiminished to her readers. A work on the necessity of race purity of interest to the general reader as well as to the student of social science.

"A book for the serious consideration of a serious people and it deserves a place in every important library." — Sioux City Tribune.

"There are many signs that men are thinking deeply over problems that are fundamental. It is always encouraging when history is deeply appealed to for the solution, or even the statements of such problems. When the day comes that history will be studied by all to see what should be avoided, that the same blunders should not be repeated, then will dawn a day of hope for mankind. Until then, such books as this should mean much. It is a discussion from a broad point of view. There is certainly much food for thought offered." — The St. Louis Times.

THE SECRET HISTORY OF THE COURT OF ENGLAND.

By The Right Honorable Lady Anne Hamilton. A reprint in full of the original edition, published in London in 1832.
Cloth, 8vo, two volumes, with photogravure frontispiece . . . . . $ 6.00
The Same, half morocco 10.00

From the accession of George III to the death of George IV. Including, among other important matters, full particulars of the mysterious death of the Princess Charlotte and the murder of the Duke of Cumberland's valet, Sellis.

Lady Hamilton's Memoirs first appeared in 1832, two years after the death of George IV. They were immediately suppressed, presumably by the orders of the English Government, who probably feared the effect they would have on the public.

In her work Lady Hamilton passionately declares that there had been a conspiracy against her mistress, the unfortunate Princess Charlotte, and produces evidence that she was poisoned, with the knowledge, if not by the direct connivance, of certain of the royal family. The rest of the Memoirs is a scathing arraignment of the morality of the Court and an intimate history of its intrigues, political and social.

CELEBRATED CRIMES OF THE RUSSIAN COURT.

Translated from the French of Alexandre Dumas by Mikael Gortshakov.

Cloth decorative, 8vo, illustrated . $3.00

The Same, half morocco 5.00

These marvellously fascinating tragedies are all based on historical facts, and in writing them Dumas has been scrupulously accurate with regard to the truth, having collated the authorities within his reach, and given every incident according to the most satisfactory evidence which he could obtain by his researches.

"Celebrated Crimes of the Russian Court" gives an absorbing account of the social and political corruption of the court that has existed for many centuries.

Such historical crimes and atrocities as those of the rule of Ivan the Terrible, the massacre of the Strelitz Guard by Peter the Great, the seizure of the throne by Catherine II., and the sanguinary Revolution of 1825 are related with vividness and force by the great Dumas.

"The translation is excellent, and the stories are told with the unfailing romantic charm that marks the longer and better known stories of Dumas." — Chicago Record-Herald.

"The reader will gain from this book many powerful impressions of the secrets of court life, of the evils of an absolute autocracy and its inevitable degeneration. This work is now translated into English for the first time.

"Needless to say, the book is alive with interest. Dumas' readers are certain of entertainment. The book is well worth while, and there is not a dull page in it." — Brooklyn Eagle.

ODES FROM THE DIVAN OF HAFIZ.

By Richard LeGallienne, author of "The Quest of the Golden Girl," etc.

RICHARD LE GALLIENNE

One volume, decorative boards, with paper label
Net $2.00; carriage paid $2.20
The Same, Persian ooze leather, decorative
Net $4.00; carriage paid $4.20

Mr. Richard LeGallienne's rendering of "The Odes of Hafiz," as in the case of his paraphrase of Omar Khayyam, has been made from literal prose versions of the poet, supplemented by his own fancy. While he has kept as closely as he deems necessary to his original, his aim, as before, has been to make English poetry, rather than a joyless shadow of a great classic. He offers this rendering in the first place as poetry, in the second as translation; but at the same time his aim has been, as faithfully as in him lies, truly to interpret the great Persian poet to English readers, so that the total result of his endeavor is really — if not literally — Hafiz.

"Of all the renderings of the Odes of Hafiz which we have seen, Mr. LeGallienne's is by all odds the best adapted to give the English reader an adequate idea of the poetry of Hafiz." — Literary Digest.

By arrangement with Mr. LeGallienne, we also are able to offer a few copies of the limited de luxe editions, privately printed by Mr. LeGallienne, namely:

The small paper edition (limited to 300 copies)† . . . . . Net $15.00

History

A HISTORY OF CANADA.

Cloth, large 8vo, gilt top . . . . . Net $2.00; carriage paid $2.18

No other living writer is so equipped for an ideal history of Canada as Professor Roberts, who unites profound scholarship, balanced judgment, rich and graceful style, and a patriotic love for the land of his birth.

Noble is the word to characterize this new and obviously just history of the British Dominion in North America. A stimulating breeze of freshness seems to blow through it. We find the influence of Parkman, which is as it should be, but the point of view is distinct and modern.

This book is of particular interest to Americans for its independent treatment of the many questions in dispute between the two countries, from the Revolution to the present. With its maps, charts, appendices, giving the British and Imperial acts in full, and with its compactness of presentation and its fine perspective, it is of equal value for the citizen's library or a university text.

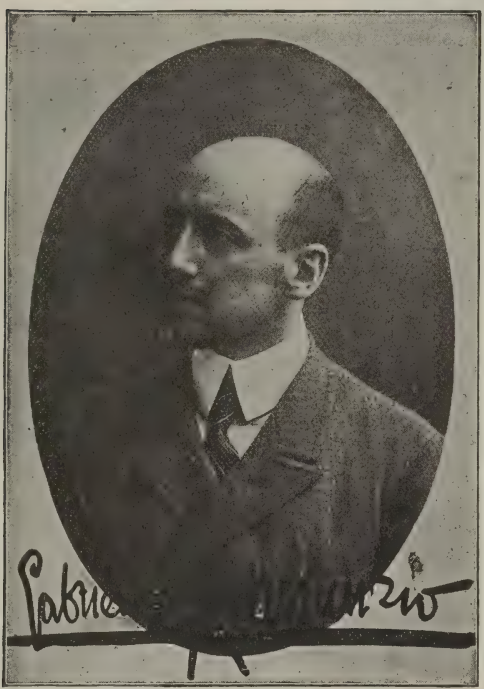
NOVELS OF GABRIELE D'ANNUNZIO



Signor d'Annunzio is known throughout the world as a poet and a dramatist, but above all as a novelist, for it is in his novels that he is at his best. In poetic thought and graceful expression he has few equals among the writers of the day.

He is engaged on a most ambitious work — nothing less than the writing of nine novels which cover the whole field of human sentiment. This work he has divided into three trilogies, and five of the nine books have been published. It is to be regretted that other labors have interrupted the completion of the series.

"This book is realistic. Some say that it is brutally so. But the realism is that of Flaubert, and not of Zola. There is no plain speaking for the sake of plain speaking. Every detail is justified in the fact that it illuminates either the motives or the actions of the man and woman who here stand revealed. It is deadly true. The author holds the mirror up to nature, and the reader, as he sees his own experiences duplicated in passage after passage, has something of the same sensation as all of us know on the first reading of George Meredith's 'Egoist.' Books for Young People

BOOKS BY ANNIE FELLOWS JOHNSTON

The Little Colonel Series (Trade Mark)

Each volume, large 12mo, illustrated $1.50

The twelve volumes are also boxed as a set, $18.00.

No juvenile heroine is so well-beloved as the "Little Colonel" whom Mrs. Johnston has made the central figure of the "Little Colonel Series" which now contains the most delightful and popular books for young people published. Though some of the books are several years old, there is a continually increasing demand for them.

Their tone is especially high and pure, and the strength of their influence may be gauged from the fact that both author and publishers are constantly in receipt of letters telling of the charitable undertakings which the books have instigated. Dozens of clubs formed by boys and girls all over the country for the purpose of helping less fortunate children are directly traceable to the "Little Colonel" stories, and the examples set forth therein.

THE LITTLE COLONEL STORIES.

Being three "Little Colonel" stories in the Cosy Corner Series, "The Little Colonel," "Two Little Knights of Kentucky," and "The Gate of the Giant Scissors," put into a single volume, owing to the popular demand for a uniform series of the stories dealing with one of the most popular of juvenile heroines.

¾THE LITTLE COLONEL'S HOUSE PARTY.

"Whatever she does, or wherever she goes, the chronicle of her adventures is sure to be entertaining, pure and wholesome in spirit, and free from mawkish sentimentality. The 'Little Colonel' is a thoroughbred." — New York Sun.

¾THE LITTLE COLONEL'S HOLIDAYS.

"The book is the best one in the series. The spirit is thoroughly wholesome and uplifting, and we have never seen a fairer picture of an old Kentucky home." — Boston Pilot.

JOEL: A BOY OF GALILEE (New Illustrated Edition)

Cloth decorative, 12mo $1.50

This is a book worthy of the widest recognition. It is an interesting tale for children, telling the story of a little boy who lived in Galilee during the life of Christ. This boy, Joel, born a cripple, but restored to health by one of Jesus' miracles, is a manly and natural little fellow, winning the sympathy of all by his courageous spirits and sturdy faith. The life of Jesus, from its simple beginning to its glorious ending, is indirectly presented in a way to greatly interest and appeal to every boy and girl.

This book, of which this new illustrated edition has been issued in response to a wide demand, is an already established favorite in this country, and also in Italy, having been recently translated into that language. "Joel" should find a place in every home, both for the charming story it tells and for the noble lessons it teaches.

"Fills for young readers the place which 'Ben Hur' fills for their elders." — Brooklyn Eagle.

"Reverently written, it possesses much attraction for the piously inclined, and this seems to have increased rather than decreased in the years the work has been before the public." — Chicago Daily News.

Stories for Older Readers

TRAVELERS FIVE: ALONG LIFE'S HIGHWAY

With an Introduction by Bliss Carman.

Cloth decorative, 12mo, with a frontispiece in full color from a painting by E. H. Garrett $1.25

"The author causes one to give pause and 'look on the world with more understanding,' as Mr. Carman says." — Boston Budget and Beacon.

"Strong indeed must be the book that would not be overshadowed by so beautiful and perfect a gem of literary excellence as Bliss Carman's foreword to 'Travelers Five: Along Life's Highway,' whom Mrs. Annie Fellows Johnston has summoned from among the multitude of wayfarers. The delicate imagery of Carman's commentary, its dulcet sound and its note of what seems extravagant praise tempt the reader to lay down the book lest the spell be broken, lest the promise be greater than the fulfillment. But such is not the case. Mrs. Johnston's pictures are of the character that cause the mind to grow gravely meditative, the eyes to shine with tender mist, the heart strings to stir to strange, sweet music of human sympathy, and, as Carman puts it, to 'sit as at a pleasant window' and 'watch the pass' of the great highway." — S. T. Clover, in the Graphic Magazine, Los Angeles, Cal.

ASA HOLMES; Or, At the Cross-Roads.

A Sketch of Country Life and Country Humor.

Cloth decorative, 12mo, with a frontispiece by Ernest Fosbery $1.00

" 'Asa Holmes; or, At the Cross-Roads' is the most delightful, most sympathetic and wholesome book that has been published in a long while. The lovable, cheerful, touching incidents, the descriptions of persons and things, are wonderfully true to nature." — Boston Times.

"The man or woman who has passed early days in village places and among village folk will appreciate this little book — so also will the reader who has been brought up amid city surroundings. The charm of the village, of old homes, old resorts, old friends, is a charm that is ever one of the last to fade, and without doubt the author has given us some clear revelation of it." — Springfield Republican.

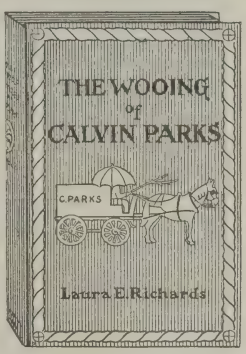
THE WOOING OF CALVIN PARKS.

Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated.

Net $1.25; carriage paid $1.40



In this story, Mrs. Richards reverts to one of the happiest of her many phases of activity. With loving touch and without the suspicion of exaggeration or unkindly caricature, she acquaints us with the homely virtues, droll conceits, and pithy saws of the fast vanishing New England types. It is a book with a laugh on every page, a surprise in every chapter, and not a tear from beginning to end.

UP TO CALVIN'S.

Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated.

Net $1.25; carriage paid $1.40

While not necessarily a sequel to "The Wooing of Calvin Parks," "Up to Calvin's" chronicles the further adventures of Calvin Parks, Mittie May, Ivory Cheeseman and many of the other lovable Down East characters who proved so entertaining in the previous book. Many new and some extremely interesting ones appear.

ON BOARD THE MARY SANDS.

Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated . . . . Net $1.25; carriage paid $1.40

In this volume the admirers of Calvin and his Down East neighbors are treated to an account of what he himself describes as the "best part of my life." He says: "We had great times Mary and me! Let alone to home here on the farm; there was the trips we made, times when I'd get restless like and smell blue water; and Mary would say, 'Let's we give the door-key to Mercy Lovely and tell Al to sleep in the stable a spell and we go off somewhere!' and we'd go! Gorry, we had great times, — that voyage we made to Floridy aboard the Mary Sands."

*MISS JIMMY.

Cloth decorative, 12mo, illustrated . . . . Net $1.00; carriage paid $1.15

"Miss Jimmy" is a story laid down in Maine, where the true type of the Yankee is found. It is a great deal to claim that never before has Mrs. Richards shown herself in all her power so completely as in this work. Jemima Dolly is simply a treasure, perhaps not altogether an uncommon treasure, but she is surrounded by just the right people to set her off in full colors. Earl Royal, the dumpy Sylphne, the reformed loafer, Dan Wilson, the undisciplined Rev. Lindsay, and all the rest of them are such real people that the tale wins its way into the inner consciousness, where it abides as one of the pleasantest memories.

Of course, this would not be one of Mrs. Richards' delightful stories without an abundant sauce of humor, and generous allowance of sentiment, so there are two love episodes between the first and last pages.

"The story is full of that refinement which appeals to the best taste. It takes for its motto Cardinal Gibbons' expression that 'A child's needless tear is a blood-blot on this earth,' and works out a beautiful and moving story." — St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

PRISONERS OF THE PIRATES.

A Tale of the Massachusetts Bay Colony. By Ruel Perley Smith, author of "The Rival Campers," etc.

Cloth decorative, 12mo, with a colored frontispiece by Frank T. Merrill . $1.50

"There is an atmosphere of old New England in the book, the humor of the born raconteur about the hero, who tells his story with the gravity of a preacher, but with a solemn humor that is irresistible. The austerity of life under Cotton Mather is in sharp contrast to the brilliant details of the pirates' habits and adventures. Such a story stands out by itself, dazzling by its naturalness, and convincing by its deft interweaving of history with fiction." — Louisville Courier-Journal.

"It is a positive relief to read such wholesome, natural and unsensational boys' stories." — Register and Leader.

A STORY OF A SHORT LIFE

It is the intention of the publishers that this series shall contain only the very highest and purest literature, — stories that shall not only appeal to the children themselves, but be appreciated by all those who feel with them in their joys and sorrows, — stories that shall be most particularly adapted for reading aloud in the family circle.

The numerous illustrations in each book are by well-known artists, and each volume has a separate attractive cover design.

The series has already attracted the attention not only of parents and children, but of young people's reading unions and circles throughout the country, and has been adopted for use as supplementary reading by many school boards.

The stories are mainly new copyrighted fiction, including the works of such engaging writers as Mrs. Annie Fellows Johnston, whose "Little Colonel" books have attained a favor scarcely second to Miss Alcott's "Little Women," Miss Edith Robinson, whose stories of child-life in Puritan days have won such popularity, and Miss Frances Margaret Fox, whose outdoor stories of children and birds and the wild dooryard creatures have all the charm of reality. On the other hand, the older favorites have not been neglected; and there is a well-chosen list of such child-classics as the stories of John Ruskin, Miss Mulock, and Ouida.

The stories themselves show no less variety, and it would be an odd child indeed, whose taste could not be suited by a selec-

The Minute Boys Series

This series of books for boys, written by Edward Stratemeyer and James Otis and illustrated by J. W. Kennedy and A. Burnham Shute, needs no recommendation. Natural History Stories Animals of Æsop, as Pictured by J. J. Mora.

This famous book, which has over 100 full-page illustrations, many of them in color, with a handsome and appropriate cover design, has been issued in a new and up-to-date style, and the price has been reduced. Large 4to, cloth. $1.00

Reynard the Fox.

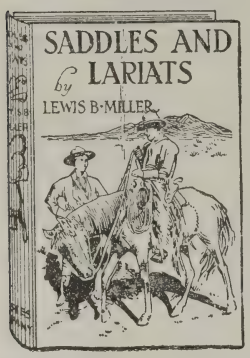
Burlesque poem from the German of the fifteenth century, containing the quaint original "Folk Tales" of the animal kingdom in amusing verse. Illustrated by twenty-four full-page and over one hundred vignette drawings by J. J. Mora.

For wit and shrewd satire, and for pure drollery both in situations and description, it is unsurpassed. The animals are not men dressed up in the skins of beasts, but are throughout true to their characters, and are not only strongly realized but consistently drawn, albeit in so simple and captivating a way that the subtle art of the narrator is quite hidden, and one is only aware of reading an absorbingly interesting and witty tale.

Large 4to, cloth. $1.00

Pioneer Stories by Lewis B. Miller

Saddles and Lariats



By Lewis B. Miller, the author of "A Crooked Trail" and "The White River Raft." Illustrated by J. W. F. Kennedy.

The immediate success of Mr. Miller's two previous books fully warrants the publication of the third one of a similar nature. Mr. Miller excels in descriptions of the old West and Southwest, which is fast becoming a thing of the past. His stories are all founded on fact, and are, in greater part, vivid descriptions of actual occurrences. "Saddles and Lariats" is the account of an attempt to take a big drove of Longhorns from Texas to California back in the 50's, and is largely true. Aside from its story interest, it has to do with a peculiar phase of American history, and should have considerable historical value.

Cloth, 12mo. $1.25

The Crooked Trail.

By Lewis B. Miller, author of "The White River Raft." Illustrated by J. W. F. Kennedy.

A thrilling narrative of the vigorous stirring life in that period of the history of Texas which immediately followed that of the pioneers. The Rangers, aided by hunger, after the buffalo had been destroyed, had driven the savages on to the reservations. Next, in this immense wild region, the few hardy settlers struggled with outlaws and cattle thieves. It was a time filled with excitement and adventure which the author neglects no opportunity to portray in this tale. Illustrated by J. W. F. Kennedy. Cloth. Large 12mo. $1.25

The White River Raft.

By Lewis B. Miller.

The scene of this stirring tale is laid in the Mississippi Valley more than half a century ago, when the river steamer, flatboats and rafts were the principal means of communication throughout that section. The country was new and scantily settled and the mighty river was not only the main highway through which people had to travel, but also sheltered swarms of pirates and other lawless folk whose activities, together with the perils of storm and flood, often tried the courage and endurance of the voyager. The author does not depend upon superhuman feats or improbable events, finding the stern realities of the time replete with excitement and adventure. It is as described the largely true story of a logging trip into the flooded forests of Arkansas, followed by an eventful raft voyage down the great river to New Orleans. Illustrated by J. W. F. Kennedy. Cloth, 12mo. $1.25

A Scout's Story.

By Owen Rhoscomyl, author of "Battlement and Tower," "The White Rose of Arno," etc.

A thrilling narrative of savage warfare and treasure hunting in Patagonia, by an author noted for his power and imagination. Illustrated, cloth, 12mo. $1.25

This interesting story by Marian W. Wildman, author of "Loyalty Island," relates the adventures of three young people who were compelled by adverse circumstances to move from the East to the mountains of Northern California, and make for themselves a home among the ranches and mining camps of that interesting country. Amy Blanchard's Books for Girls

Talbot's Angles.

A charming romance of Southern life. TALBOT'S ANGLES is a beautiful old estate located on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. The death of the owner and the ensuing legal troubles render it necessary for our heroine, the present owner, to leave the place which has been in her family for hundreds of years and endeavor to earn her own living. Another claimant for the property appearing on the scene complicates matters still more. The untangling of this mixed-up condition of affairs, together with the description of this extremely interesting country with its quaint houses filled with beautiful old furniture and silver, its hospitable hostesses, and genuine old mammies, make an extremely interesting story.

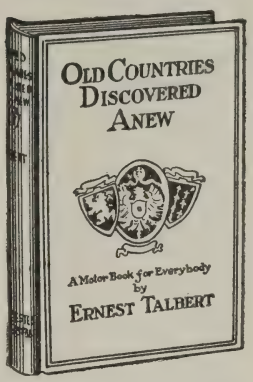
Old Countries Discovered Anew. A Motor-Book for Everybody

By Ernest Talbert.



"Old Countries Discovered Anew" comprises a chatty and interesting account of a trip by motor-car through Holland, Germany, and across France, three of the most interesting countries of all Europe.

The average person visits these countries by rail. Mr. Talbert made the trip by motor-car and consequently saw many remote sections, sections seldom, if ever, visited by the tourist; sections in which the customs, habits, and lives of the people are exact counterparts of those existing there centuries ago.

Mr. Talbert has not only given in this book an exceedingly fascinating account of a quaint and interesting trip, but he has furnished a most complete guide-book to motoring in Europe.

He gives us in detail most necessary information regarding motors, the roads to be followed, baggage to be carried, methods of securing gasoline and other necessary supplies, the hotels and inns, etc., etc., in fact, all the information that the person desirous of making a like trip could possibly need.

Two Quaint Republics, Andorra and San Marino

By Virginia W. Johnson, author of "Many Years of a Florence Balcony," "Lily of the Arno," etc., etc.

Of these two quaint republics, Andorra and San Marino, located on the borderland of France and Italy, little is known. Miss Johnson in her interesting volume, writing about what she knows thoroughly, therefore, introduces to the reader a new and unique territory. Located within their mountain fastnesses where for hundreds of years they have defied the attempts of the various European nations to subdue and annex them, these little countries, seldom visited by tourists or travellers, preserve their unique and interesting customs and traditions.

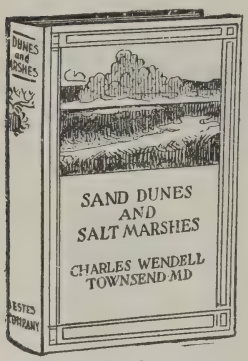
Sand Dunes and Salt Marshes

By Dr. Charles Wendell Townsend, author of "A Labrador Spring," etc.



The book is an intimate account of sand dunes and salt marshes, and as such will appeal to all lovers of the seashore where these features are to be found.

Although written in a popular manner, abounding in charming descriptions of scenery and of bird and animal life, the book is filled with scientific facts and original observations. A brief resumé of the chapters will present some idea of the scope of the book. Chapter I gives an appreciative description of sand dunes, with an account of their varying forms and rate of growth, of the overwhelming of farms and the burying of wrecks. The snow and ice formation in winter is also described. In the next chapter the various tracks in the sand are studied, and we obtain from them intimate knowledge of the creatures, whether they be deer or foxes, crows or grasshoppers. The vegetation in the dunes is described at some length. The harbor seal is pursued at all seasons with telescope and binoculars, and is described in life and action from boyhood to old age.

In the first chapter on salt marshes, the writer revels in the artistic and poetic side of the subject, for he is a thorough salt marsh lover. He manages, however, to include scientific accuracy, and he gives a detailed description of the four zones of vegetation. Chapters on "Birds of the Salt Marshes," "The Horseshoe Crab and other Denizens of the Sand and Mud," complete the book, which is illustrated with nearly a hundred excellent half-tones from photographs.

Edited by Dr. C. W. Townsend, author of "A Labrador Spring," etc.

These Journals, detailing the experience during nearly 16 years of this pioneer settler and trader on the inhospitable but interesting Labrador coast, are a mine of valuable information. They reveal his tact and justice in dealing with the natives, his accurate and painstaking studies at first hand of the furbearing animals, waterbirds and botanical species of the then new and unknown country; likewise in experiences of the labor difficulties of the day and adventures with American privateers during the Revolution. An Introduction is contributed by Dr. W. T. Grenfell. Illustrated. Large 12mo, cloth. $2.00 net

My Boy and I. By His Mother

By Christine Terhune Herrick, author of "Like Mother Used to Make," "Sunday Night Suppers," etc., etc.

A timely and interesting book on a deeply important subject. At the present time, when Women's Clubs, Mother's Associations, etc., are so deeply interested in the problem of the home and the children, this little book, a comparatively personal narrative, by a well-known American authoress, should have a wide appeal.

The problems and perplexities that confront the average mother of sons and daughters in this complex age are enough to daunt the most painstaking and careful parent. Mrs. Herrick is too well known to need an introduction to the average American mother, and anything she has to say on a subject of this nature will assuredly be listened to with a great deal of pleasure and profit.

A careful reading of this book cannot fail to be of great assistance and value to all parents, guardians, teachers, and others who have to do with the bringing up of boys and girls. Cloth, 12mo. $1.00 net

Little Talks with Mothers of Little People.

A timely and valuable volume from the pen of Virginia Terhune Van de Water, who is connected in editorial capacities with various magazines, such as the Woman's Home Companion. Mrs. Van de Water is well known to the public both for her short stories, magazine articles, and her "Helps to Mothers" columns. This book contains chapters on: and many other interesting phases of the daily life of mother and child.

BATHING AND DRESSING THE BABY — THE CHILD'S FOOD — THE CHILD IN ILLNESS — OUR CHILDREN'S MANNERS — VANITY AND THE AWKWARD AGE — THE CHILDREN'S HOLIDAYS — WHAT SHALL OUR CHILDREN READ? — OUR CHILDREN'S SPEECH AND TEMPERS — WHAT SHALL WE TELL OUR CHILDREN?

Cloth, 12mo. $1.25 net

Like Mother Used to Make.

By Christine Terhune Herrick, a daughter of Marion Harland.

Mrs. Herrick is too well-known and has written and edited too much on her own account to need the benefit of her mother's reputation, still we fancy that people of an older generation, and the young ones too, who are familiar with the recipes of Marion Harland, will be especially interested in this volume by her daughter. A partial list of its contents comprises chapters on:

BREADS OF VARIOUS SORTS — EASTER AND CHRISTMAS DAINTIES — PICKLING AND PRESERVING — HOT WEATHER RECIPES — ENTERTAINING WITHOUT SERVICE — HOME AIDS TO HOUSEKEEPING — UNCOMMON WAYS TO COOK COMMON VEGETABLES

It is not only a cook book, but also a useful aid to housekeeping in general.

Sunday Night Suppers.

By Christine Terhune Herrick.

A valuable work on a fresh subject by a well-known writer of books on domestic science. The title explains its character and occasion. To quote from the author, "In most homes the Sunday night supper is an unsatisfactory compromise. The housekeeper, however successful in her method for other times, leaves this meal to Providence, with the usual result that awaits upon blind trust in Providence unbacked by human endeavor." That there are great possibilities in the Sunday night supper is shown most convincingly in this desirable work. A book all must have. Unique cover design, cloth, tall 12mo. $1.00 net

OF THE WRITINGS OF

Jane Austen

The writings of Jane Austen possess qualities that place them far above those of her contemporaries except Scott. She is one of the supreme literary artists of the world, for she made no compromises, and never wrote a line to please any one but herself. That is precisely why she pleases all readers' taste and intelligence. Lord Macaulay said of her works, "There are no compositions which approach nearer to perfection. . . . In the delineation of character she approaches nearest to Shakespeare." The Cabinet Edition comprises her works and letters and an introduction by Prof. William Lyon Phelps, Ph.D., Lampson Professor of English Literature in Yale University, together with an essay by Lord Bradbourne relative to the publication of her letters. The edition is illustrated by thirty full-page drawings in color by C. E. and H. M. Brock. The works in cloth binding, gilt tops, sold in sets or separately, as follows:

British Poets. Cabinet Edition.

This is altogether the most valuable and attractive library collection of the better known British poets published. In the fairly compact compass of fifteen handsome cabinet size volumes are presented the complete authoritative text of the poetical works of the authors listed below. Valuable annotations, as well as biographical and other editorial matter from most expert sources, are included. The works are beautifully illustrated with etchings and photogravures, portraits and scenes from drawings or paintings of celebrated artists. Commentary matter includes appendix to Burns's poems and a memoir to the poet, to which is added Dr. Currie's description of Burns; a memoir to Hood and notes to his poems; a preface and notes to the works of Shelley by Mrs. Shelley, and a memoir by James Russell Lowell. In addition, the works of Keats are edited by W. T. Arnold. To the works of Gray are added a " Life by Rev. J. Mulford," with notes, etc. The " Songs of the Dramatists " is edited by Robert Bell, and contains a collection of songs from the English dramatists, beginning with the writer of the first regular comedy and ending with Sheridan. The want of such a collection has long been felt, and that it has never been supplied before, must occasion surprise to all readers who are acquainted with the riches of this branch of lyrical poetry.

Illustrated Cabinet Edition

OF THE COMPLETE WORKS OF

Honoré de Balzac

In 36 volumes

Balzac is universally conceded to be the greatest novelist of France if not of the world. In his "Comédie Humaine" he set out to portray contemporary French life of all classes and types, and in the accomplishment of this task was marvellously successful. His stories contain two thousand characters drawn with a realism and imaginative grasp unapproached by any other writer since Shakespeare. His analysis of motives and subtlety of insight are equalled only by the power and rush of his narrative, which has a dramatic intensity hard to match elsewhere in literature. Balzac is the master of many styles — the idyllic, impassioned, fanciful, and sententious, but he always enchains the attention and fascinates the mind. He was the amanuensis of society. Human nature seemed to put itself permanently on record through the medium of his pen. His astonishing fertility is the standing marvel of all literary workers who have come after him. Although he died as recently as 1850, he seems to be as assured a classic as Dante, Cervantes, and Goethe, — one of the eternal men. The popular demand for Balzac's works has had a tremendous impetus within a few years, and it is coming to be true that not to have read "Père Goriot," "Eugénie Grandet," and other of his masterpieces, is to write one's self down ignorant of the best in modern literature.

This edition of Balzac is a new translation into English, made with unusual charm of style and fidelity to the original. The introduction to each volume is contributed by George Saintsbury, M. A., Professor of English Literature in the University of Edinburgh, and one of the most eminent of living critics.

The publishers have confidence in announcing this edition as the most complete and the only authorized rendering of the Saintsbury Balzac. It contains four new volumes, never before included in any set of Balzac: "The Physiology of Marriage," "The Dramas" (in two volumes), and a "Repertory of the Comédie Humaine." The addition of this valuable material renders the edition without a rival.

The paper employed is a superior quality of laid, deckle edge, made especially for this edition, and the text is printed from new type with a clear open face. The title-pages are printed in two colors. The illustrations number about one hundred and fifty, and include a group of reproductions of etchings made by famous English and French artists for the first English edition, a collection of quaint old wood-cuts made by French artists during Balzac's lifetime, and giving authentic contemporary costumes, and a series of paintings and black and white sketches made expressly for this edition by some of the best American artists of to-day. The illustrations also include the best existing portrait of Balzac and the latest portrait of Professor Saintsbury.

Illustrated Cabinet Edition

OF THE WORKS OF

James Fenimore Cooper

James Fenimore Cooper may be properly called one of the great novelists. His stories are full of sustained interest and are possessed of a power which always fascinates, but his greatest strength lies in the description of scenes and narration of events.

In "Leather Stocking" Cooper added a character to the small gallery of the world's fictitious personages, — something no other American has ever done, except Mrs. Stowe; — and in Harvey Birch, the hero of "The Spy," Long Tom Coffin of "The Ariel," and Uncas and Chingachgook, the friends and supporters of the famous "Leather Stocking," he created characters of undying interest.

While Cooper was the author of many novels, he will probably be best remembered by the stories included in the two groups, the "Sea Tales" and the "Leather Stocking Tales." Of the "Sea Tales," it is said by an English critic, "The faculty with which the scenes of the waste of waters are depicted, and the living interest with which Cooper invests every part of a ship as if it were an individual being, can not be excelled and has never been equalled by any other author." It is in his "Leather Stocking Tales," however, that we find Cooper at his best. This was an altogether new field of fiction, and it was here that Cooper's unbounded imagination was given full play. Though for a time Cooper's Indians were held to be the creations of a romantic fancy, ethnologists now tell us they are far from overdrawn portraitures, and that many of the characteristics with which he invested them really belonged to these early inhabitants of our country.

In addition to the above, Cooper wrote much which dealt largely with the burning questions of the time. The three novels, "Satanstoe," "The Chainbearer," and "The Redskins," present Cooper's views concerning the anti-rent controversy which agitated seriously the State of New York, and particularly the regions of the upper Hudson, during the early '40's. "Homeward Bound" and "Home as Found" have for their main purpose the correction of certain American manners and methods. "The Monikins" also is one of the satires on certain American faults. "The Ways of the Hour" had for its special purpose the exposure of the defects of trial by jury

This edition is without doubt one of the finest ever put on the market. It is beautifully printed on laid deckle-edge paper, handsomely and substantially bound, and is illustrated with nearly 100 full-page photogravure, etching, and steel-plate illustrations, among which are included the well-known Darley plates, and special illustrations by J. W. F. Kennedy.

Illustrated Cabinet Edition

WORKS OF

Charles Dickens

In 30 volumes

Uniform with our Illustrated Cabinet Editions of George Eliot, Victor Hugo, and W. M. Thackeray

Innumerable editions and bindings of Dickens's Works have from time to time appeared on the market, but it is a remarkable fact that none have yet appeared that in the judgment of competent critics are worthy of this great revolutionizer of English literature, or which possess the true artistic character in illustration and typography.

Confident in the belief that the times demand really fine work, the publishers have planned an edition which will from the outset create a new and widespread interest, not alone in the author's novels, but in the perfection of their presentation.

As much of Dickens's early success was due to the marvellous illustrations made by Cruikshank, Phiz, and others, which were submitted to and approved by Dickens before they were accepted (early impressions of which command enormous prices), it has been deemed of the first importance that these be used in preference to anything else. Many illustrations have since been made by talented artists, but the fact that they have never been accepted by the public as really illustrating Dickens is convincing proof that the original designs could not be improved upon. Early impressions have accordingly been obtained at great expense, and competent artists secured to reëtch them line for line. Some of the original volumes were illustrated by wood engravings, as "Barnaby Rudge," "Old Curiosity Shop," etc., and the publishers have been so fortunate as to obtain from the English publishers, Chapman & Hall, electrotypes from the original wood blocks, which have never been printed from. These, over three hundred in number, will be printed on metallic surface coated paper, and the patrons of this edition are thus guaranteed excellent impressions of the finest illustrations ever made for Dickens's works. Among the great artists whose work is included in these volumes are: CRUIKSHANK, SEYMOUR, H. K. BROWNE (Phiz), MARCUS STONE, CATTERMOLE, F. WALKER, DOYLE, LEECH, MACLISE, LANDSEER, BARNARD, AND DARLEY.

In many instances extra plates are given, which are contained in no other similar edition of the present day. By far the most attractive and most easily read Dickens ever made.

It is hard to imagine any way in which this edition could be improved. Small, handy volumes, uniform in size with the Eliot, Hugo, and Thackeray, printed by the University Press, from a type page that is simply perfection. English finish paper of the best quality, and bound in silk-ribbed cloth, gilt tops.

Illustrated Cabinet Edition

WORKS OF

Victor Hugo

In 24 volumes

Uniform in size and style with the Illustrated Cabinet Editions of George Eliot, W. M. Thackeray and Charles Dickens

Victor Hugo occupies not only an enviable place among the really great men of this century, but one that may be said to be entirely unique. His genius is brilliant and unquestioned, and his intellect bright, noble, and enlightened. He is at once novelist, poet, philosopher, artist, prophet, and moralist; a thinker of the highest rank, whose writings are growing in popularity, not only in his native country, France, but throughout the world; and at a time when the greatest works of many authors, who during his lifetime were considered his equals or superiors, are now unread ornaments on thousands of library shelves. The increasing demand for his works indicates most significantly the presence of certain qualities which commend them to the rising generation, and adapt them to the intellectual of all classes and all countries.

They appeal to the refinement of thought of the present age, and among them are found masterpieces of fiction and drama which will rank among the highest of all times and all countries. Among the novels, "Les Miserables" and "Notre Dame" are ranked as among the very greatest works of fiction ever produced in any age or country.

The illustrations will consist of etchings and photogravures by the most notable French artists, who have vied with one another to produce fitting designs to illustrate these masterpieces of modern literature. The photogravures have, in the main, been executed in Paris, by the celebrated firm of Goupil et Cie. There may be also especially mentioned etchings of many original compositions by the celebrated artist,

François Flameng, the exclusive right to which, with editions in this country, has been purchased by the publishers of this edition. In addition to these will be several portraits of the author. Among the famous artists and etchers whose work appears in this edition are Detaille, Leloir, Vibert, Perrault, Bonnat Merson, Lefevre, Frere, Hagborg, and others equally famous.

This is the only complete edition of Victor Hugo's Romances, and it contains also his celebrated Last Days of the Condemned, Things Seen, Poems, Dramas, etc.

Printed by the University Press, on the finest English-finish paper, from large, clear type, well leaded, and set in a small page. Bound in English silk-ribbed cloth, with a particularly unique and appropriate full gold back design, gilt tops, uncut edges.

Illustrated Cabinet Edition

WORKS OF

Captain Marryat

Uniform in size and style with our Illustrated Cabinet Editions of John Ruskin and William H. Prescott

Captain Marryat, as a novelist and story-teller, possessed a lively imagination and a keen sense of humor, as well as sound literary talent, but he is dependent on none of these qualities for the lasting success and popularity of his works. He had, besides, the advantage which no other writer except Smollet had, of having passed his life among the events and scenes he used in his tales, and readers of Marryat do not have to content themselves with description at second hand. The sailor-author himself found in his own heroic career real events and incidents enough to fill his twenty odd volumes. That he has bestowed them on fictitious personages, instead of relating them as his own, does not detract from the vivid force and reality of his descriptions. This quality constituted the chief interest in his works, and has given them a prominent place among standard works of fiction.

The times he lived in and wrote of are of exceptional interest to the lover of sea tales. Ships and sailors battled for, and controlled the destinies of the world. The man-of-warsman was in the zenith of his glory. It is no wonder that Marryat, who wielded so ready a pen, and who passed his life among such stirring scenes of tempest and battle, should be the favorite author with lovers of the sea.

In announcing an authorized edition of Marryat's works, the publishers have availed themselves of exceptional facilities, and can promise all book lovers an extraordinarily fine work.

The set is complete in twenty-four tall 12mo volumes, which is bound in cloth, gilt tops. The text of the work is printed from new plates on Dickinson all rag deckle-edge laid paper. There are about 150 illustrations in photogravure from original drawings by F. W. Hayes, A. R. C. A., W. H. Overend, E. J. Wheeler, and Frederick Barnard, printed on Royal India etching paper. Valuable and interesting introductions to the different novels are contributed by W. L. Courtney, M. A., LL. D.

The set will be the best trade edition ever published in America. The works will be sold in sets or separately as follows:

Illustrated Cabinet Edition

OF WORKS ABOUT

Napoleon

The extraordinary revival of interest in the life and times of the great Napoleon has made it possible to issue in its present form, and in a uniform style, the three greatest works ever written on the subject, Hazlitt's Life, Bourrienne's Memoirs, and Madame Junot's Memoirs, which have been acknowledged by modern historians as being the most elaborate and impartial records of Napoleon's life ever published. It is not within the scope of any one historian to view the varied sides of this wonderful career and do the subject justice. It is for this reason that no one "Life" yet written contains the necessary data to properly judge the man.

There has been no question in the minds of the publishers as to the best works to be chosen, as the present selection remains in its entirety the most complete and reliable Life of Napoleon ever issued. The "Life" written by William Hazlitt was first published in 1830, and is a clear history of the period commencing with the causes which eventually resulted in the French Revolution and ending with the death of Napoleon at St. Helena. Hazlitt occupies a front rank among the great historians of the world.

For a number of years, commencing with his school-days, Bourrienne, the close friend of Napoleon, and later his private secretary, had an opportunity to watch the events which culminated in the greatest reign of modern times, and which permitted him to give to the world a work which would never have been written but for these favoring circumstances. He does not claim to have written a work which could properly be termed a "Life," but a recital of incidents which it is necessary to read in order to properly understand the causes and results which make this epoch of French history so fascinating. He deals almost exclusively with the Cabinet, and in his narrative the reader comes in personal contact with all the great statesmen of that period.

Madame Junot, Duchess d'Abrantes, occupied a position at court from the establishment of the Consulate to the completion of Napoleon's reign. Her acquaintance with him ripened into a warm friendship and admiration for his wonderful ability; and her cheerful, happy disposition made her a great favorite. Her opportunities for studying the social side of this period were many. Her husband was a favorite general of the Empire, and under such favorable auspices she could not be other than interesting. She has not attempted to deal with the political side of this career, but confines herself exclusively to her reminiscences of facts occurring at court.

The form selected will be a tall 12mo, with large, open-spaced type and ample margins. The illustrations — over eighty in number — will consist of proofs on Royal India etching paper of etchings and photogravures, made expressly for the work, and include a portrait of every marshal, general, and statesman who took a prominent part in Napoleon's reign. Many of the great battles will be represented, and are reproduced from originals which are owned by the French Government.

Particular attention will be paid to the portraits of Napoleon; and of these there will be a large number, showing him at various stages in his life; and in each instance they are made from the original painting or engraving.

The paper used will be a fine laid deckle-edge paper.

The work will be printed at the University Press, Cambridge, from new electrotype plates set from new type.

OF THE COMPLETE WORKS OF

Edgar Allan Poe

The works of Poe, both verse and prose, are increasingly in demand. This author has at last taken his rightful place as the greatest imaginative genius, with one possible exception, whom America has produced.

The Cabinet Edition contains all of Poe's immortal short stories, which some hold to be the greatest ever written, as well as his complete poetical works, criticisms, and general essays. It is prefaced by a sympathetic memoir from the pen of the late Richard Henry Stoddard, occupying over 220 pages, and embellished with facsimile autographs. It contains also brief appreciations by James Russell Lowell and Nathaniel Parker Willis, as well as a remarkable critical essay by Mr. Stoddard, entitled "The Genius of Poe." Of Poe's Tales Mr. Stoddard says: "There is nothing in English literature with which the stories of Poe can be compared, and nothing in American literature, except the stories of Hawthorne." The text is printed in large, clear type, with wide margins, on a handsome laid deckle-edge paper. The edition contains nearly 40 etchings and photogravures.

Illustrated Cabinet Edition

WORKS OF

John Ruskin

In 26 volumes

John Ruskin stands, without a peer, the most eloquent and original of all writers on nature, art, and architecture in the world.

As a writer of beautiful English, too, his "Sesame and Lilies," "Mornings in Florence," etc., have long been recognized as masterpieces.

His picturesque Saxon style, graphic, clear, and forcible, is justly considered one of the glories of modern English literature, and, as Charlotte Bronté says, "He writes like a consecrated priest of the abstract and ideal."

The "Spectator" says (Autumn, 1884): "No other critic ever occupied such a position. He is one of the best known and most appreciated figures in our generation. His older books are among the treasures of the bibliophile, his later works are purchased like scarce plates, his opinions are quoted like texts from a holy book."

Carlyle writes to Emerson, in the last letter he ever sent to him: "No other man in England that I meet has in him the divine rage against iniquity, falsity, and baseness that Ruskin has, and that every man ought to have."

No previous edition of Ruskin has fully met the requirements of exacting book lovers; the Illustrated Cabinet Edition, we believe, will.

Printed from beautiful, clear type, well spaced with indented side notes on deckle-edge, soft laid paper, equal to the finest hand-made as far as results in printing are concerned, and producing a volume light in weight.

The full-page illustrations number 288, and include all the colored plates, steel engravings, etchings, and process cuts, in all the original tints. In addition to the full-page illustrations are the cuts in the text — many hundreds of them altogether. A large proportion of these are from drawings by Mr. Ruskin, and are not only attractive in appearance, but are absolutely necessary for a proper interpretation of the text.

The volumes are bound with flat backs and uncut edges, gilt tops, in a handsome cloth, with an especially appropriate full gold back design. Size, a tall 12mo.

The works will be sold in complete sets or separately as follows:

Although forty years have elapsed since the death of Eugene Sue, no fitting edition of this great author's works has ever been published; and yet he stands to-day the third member of the great triumvirate of French authors who not only did much for the literature of France, but did their share toward revolutionizing many old ideas. If choice of the three greatest French novels were made, the selection would undoubtedly consist of "Les Miserables," "The Three Musketeers," and The Mysteries of Paris, and hardly less great is The Wandering Jew.

With New Introductions, Notes, and Glossaries

By ANDREW LANG

An acquaintance with the Waverley Novels is a necessity to every intelligent reader, and no library should be without a set of these works. All other writers appreciate the rational and virtuous tendencies of Scott's works, and the historical knowledge which a careful reader gleans from them is of great value. A feature of these inimitable fictions is the delineation of national character with a fidelity the most exact, and the description of scenery with a picturesqueness almost unequalled.

The publishers of this edition propose to place before the American public these romances in a more appropriate form than they have ever been offered before in either Europe or America. The text will be reprinted from the author's favorite edition, and will contain all of his introductions and notes. To these will be added new introductions, notes, and glossaries by the world-renowned critic and author, Andrew Lang, who has had the coöperation of the Hon. Mrs. Maxwell Scott, of Abbotsford, the great-granddaughter of Sir Walter Scott, in preparing this edition, and who has had access to all of the manuscript and other material now at Abbotsford, so that new points of interest may consequently be expected in this edition.

This edition will also excel all previous editions in points of artistic merit. The illustrations will consist of two hundred and fifty etchings from original designs by some of the most distinguished artists in the world, printed on Japanese paper.

Among the artists and etchers whose work will appear in this edition may be mentioned the following:

Artists.

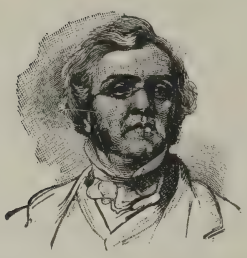
COMPLETE WORKS OF

William Makepeace Thackeray

In 20 volumes



Of the many editions hitherto published in Europe and America, it is believed that none are so well adapted to the requirements of those persons who really appreciate the masterpieces of these great novelists, and wish to preserve them in an elegant and convenient library form.

This edition of THACKERAY contains all of the novels and miscellanies contained in the best standard edition, issued in England with the author's approval.

A companion set to the Illustrated Cabinet Editions of George Eliot, Victor Hugo, and Charles Dickens, printed on the finest English-finish paper, from beautiful type, well spaced and set in a small page. Press-work by the University Press.

The volumes are a small 12mo, uniform in size with the Illustrated Cabinet Edition of Eliot, and bound with handsome full gold backs in English silk ribbed cloth, gilt tops.

One of the distinguishing features of this edition is a greater variety of illustrations than has ever appeared in any edition of THACKERAY'S WORKS, consisting of 210 woodcuts, mainly from the drawings of the author, which have become as thoroughly identified with his literary works as have the drawings of Cruikshank and Phiz with those of Dickens. These will be supplemented with reproductions of drawings by the celebrated English artists, Millais, Barnard, and Luke Fildes; and to these will be added two etched portraits, a series of original etchings, drawn and etched by Pailthorpe especially for the publishers of this edition, together with the famous etchings by George Cruikshank, six photo-etchings from the Character Sketches of Frederick Barnard, and many photogravures reproduced for this edition from photographs of real scenes referred to. OF THE WORKS OF

Count L. N. Tolstoy

Translated by Leo Wiener

We take pleasure in announcing a wholly new, complete, and authentic presentation of the works of Count Tolstoy, translated entirely afresh from the original Russian (uncensored) by Leo Wiener, professor of Slavic languages and literature at Harvard University. A famous critic has recently pronounced Tolstoy the foremost living writer of to-day, and very few would care to challenge this deliberate estimate. His works have a wider circulation than those of any living author, having been printed in more than seventy different languages and dialects. A special feature of value of this edition consists in it being the work of one single individual, a feature possessed by no other version; thus securing a uniform style and method of treatment. A final volume is added to the set, containing the life of Count Tolstoy, which has been as remarkable as his writings, and is the most trustworthy and brilliant biography of the great Russian novelist in print. Correct Russian spellings have been given to the proper names, with accents to obviate the difficulty of pronunciation to English readers. This edition will contain fully seventy full-page illustrations from very rare Russian books and manuscripts, or reproductions from the most celebrated paintings of famous Russian artists, among whom may be mentioned Vasili Vereschagin, L. O. Pasternak, I. E. Ryepin, and A. Kevshenko, together with the following European artists, Edouard Detaille, A. Desnoyers, Carl Buddeus, and others. These works are comprised in four volumes, uniform in size and style with the original Cabinet Edition, and include the following writings.

OF THE WORKS OF

Alfred, Lord Tennyson

IN 12 VOLUMES.

Although the last century has been a grave of brilliant reputations, the fame of Tennyson is as secure as it was in 1842 or 1850. He belongs to the succession of the great English poets. In fact, after Chaucer, Shakespeare, Milton, and possibly Wordsworth, he stands in the opinion of not a few critics indisputably at their head. Every bookbuyer, even of the most limited means, has come to feel that it is a matter of imperative necessity to own a good set of Tennyson's Works. It is a gratification to the publishers that they can offer the finest edition of this great Victorian master which has ever been placed on the American market. This edition is edited and annotated by Prof. William J. Rolfe. It may be confidently pronounced the most beautiful edition of Tennyson's Poetical Works ever offered to the trade. It is issued in twelve volumes, with about five illustrations to each, including photogravures and etchings from paintings by Edward Lear, one of the poet's lifelong friends, and also from landscapes and figure paintings by Doré, Edwin A. Abbey, Frederick Dielman, and others. The text of the edition was collated and edited by Doctor Rolfe, with all of that scrupulous care which has made his name a synonym for accuracy, and the variorum readings and other critical memoranda are invaluable to the reader. In the prosecution of his work, the editor obtained the cordial approval and coöperation of Lord Tennyson and his family. This edition is in the most literal sense definitive. Sold only in sets, 12 volumes, cloth, 12mo, half calf or morocco.

With frontispiece in full color from a painting by R. Farrington Elwell and six spirited drawings by Frank J. Murch. Bound uniform with the POLLYANNA books in silk cloth, with a corresponding color jacket. Net, $1.25; carriage paid, $1.40

THE year we published POLLYANNA, THE GLAD BOOK, we published another book by the same author, but as it is contrary to our policy to issue two books by one writer in a year, we published the second book under the pseudonym "Eleanor Stuart."

We have now announced SIX STAR RANCH under the name of its real author.

The success of her previous books is practically unparalleled in the history of American publishing, POLLYANNA: THE GLAD BOOK having already sold 300,000 copies — an average of more than 100,000 copies for three consecutive years — and POLLYANNA GROWS UP: THE SECOND GLAD BOOK having sold nearly 175,000 copies in nine months. SIX STAR RANCH completes "the big three."

"SIX STAR RANCH bears all the charm of the author's genius and is about a little girl down in Texas who practices the 'POLLYANNA PHILOSOPHY' with irresistible success. The book is one of the kindliest things, if not the best, that the author of the POLLYANNA books has done. It is a welcome addition to the fast-growing family of GLAD BOOKS." — Howard Russel Bangs in the Boston Post.

FICTION

THE GIRL FROM THE BIG HORN COUNTRY (4th Printing)

By Mary Ellen Chase

Illustrated by R. Farrington Elwell, decorative jacket, net, $1.25; carriage paid, $1.40

At the beginning of the story, Virginia Hunter, a bright, breezy, frank-hearted "girl of the Golden West" comes out of the Big Horn country of Wyoming to the old Bay State. Then "things begin," when Virginia, — who feels the joyous, exhilarating call of the Big Horn wilderness and the outdoor life, — attempts to become acclimated and adopt good old New England "ways."

Few stories reveal a more attractive heroine, and the joyous spirit of youth and its happy adventures give the story an unusual charm.

"The large ideas that are bred in great spaces, the frankness of mountain air, the unspoilt humanness of people who live on the soil and the honesty of true sympathetic democracy shaped the character of Virginia — 'the girl from the Big Horn Country.' The story is a cure for any fit of the blues." — Boston Transcript.

"The tale is well-nigh perfect, devoid of commonplace and cant, sincere, purposeful and picturesque — yet bright and buoyant with the joyous spirit of youth." — Philadelphia North American.

HARRIE LANGHORNE

(Tentative Title)

A new novel

By Mrs. Henry Backus

Author of "The Career of Dr. Weaver," "The Rose of Roses," etc.

Illustrated, net $1.25; carriage paid, $1.40

HARRIE LANGHORNE is a girl with "the mind of a man, and the soul of a butterfly," divided between a desire to be true to the traditions of her family, and an overpowering attraction for Stephen Rhodes, whose personal worth does not outweigh, in her mind, the obscurity of his origin.

Following the footsteps of her father, "a maker of cities," Harrie dips her finger into the local political pie, under the crust of which Stephen Rhodes is hatching a sweeping program for civic betterment, which will relieve overcrowding in the tenement districts.

Harrie at first aligns herself with her father in opposition to the young reformer until in a moment of emotional abandon, the "woman in her" changes the entire course of events.

This is a big and purposeful American story, full of genuine emotions and real people; a vital novel of today, with a political background to provoke discussion, and a love story out of the ordinary in every way.

SYLVIA OF THE HILL TOP

A sequel to "Sylvia's Experiment, The Cheerful Book"
Trade Mark

By Margaret R. Piper

Illustrated, decorative jacket, net, $1.25; carriage paid, $1.40

In THE CHEERFUL BOOK Sylvia Arden proved herself a messenger of joy and cheerfulness to thousands of readers. In this new story she plays the same rôle on Arden Hill during her summer vacation and is the same wholesome, generous, cheerful young lady who made such a success of the Christmas Party. She befriends sick neighbors, helps "run" a tea-room, brings together two lovers who have had differences, serves as the convenient bridesmaid here and the good Samaritan there, and generally acquits herself in a manner which made of her such a popular heroine in the former story. There is, of course, a Prince Charming in the background.

"The SYLVIA books should be read by all the exponents of POLLYANNA of THE GLAD BOOKS," says Mr. H. V. Meyer of the American Baptist Publication Society.

"There is a world of human nature and neighborhood contentment and quaint, quiet humor in Margaret R. Piper's second book of good cheer. It is a buoyant and joyous record of helpful activity full of amusing incidents and animated by a sense of good fellowship." — Philadelphia North American.

FICTION

A first novel of unusual merit and distinction

THE ROAD TO LE RÊVE

By Brewer Corcoran

Illustrated, cloth 12mo, net, $1.25; carriage paid, $1.40

In this story of society and the wilderness — not the wilderness of the average angler but the wilderness de luxe of the multi-millionaire fishing club — Mr. Corcoran deals powerfully with the vital theme that the few should give up their pleasures for the good of the many. Not only does Betty Norton turn rebel to environment, but foe to her father and the rest of the Idylwild clique, whose interests spread out like the web of a spider. Her fight for individuality, her loyalty and her charm are as real as the realities of which she is the apostle. And fighting at her side is Steve Danforth, not a player of polo or a hero of the hotel piazzas, but a clean-cut, red-blooded young engineer who not only dreams of a road to Le Rêve, but makes a dream come true.

Primarily this story is a romance — a romance of remarkable merit, combining the attractions of a novel of modern American enterprise and finance with those of a fascinating love story, full of youth, open air and adventure.

The keynote of unselfishness which is struck in this book is the controlling one of the hour.

FICTION

ANNE'S WEDDING

A BLOSSOM SHOP STORY

A Sequel to "The Blossom Shop" and "Anne of the Blossom Shop"

By Isla May Mullins

Illustrated, cloth 12mo, decorative jacket, net, $1.25; carriage paid, $1.40

THIS new book continues the story of a delightful southern family of unique combinations, which have been introduced to thousands of interested readers through the two preceding volumes, THE BLOSSOM SHOP and ANNE OF THE BLOSSOM SHOP. The new volume promises to be by far the most popular of the three — which is saying a good deal — for these stories, sweet and clean, with their picturesque southern setting, have charmed both old and young. In the new volume Anne, May and Gene, three girls of varying types from lovely Mrs. Carter's garden of girls, touch life in new and vital ways which develop sterling character and set promising and full-blown romance to stirring.

"There is so much of sunshine in its pages that it sheds its cheerfulness upon the reader, making life seem brighter and convincing us that this world is a pleasant place to live in and full of delightful, kind-hearted people." — Boston Times.

FICTION

MAN PROPOSES:

Or, THE ROMANCE OF JOHN ALDEN SHAW

By Eliot H. Robinson

Illustrated, cloth 12mo, net, $1.25; carriage paid, $1.40

THE story of John Alden Shaw is in many respects unique. Containing an enigma of an unusual nature, an odd legal tangle and a deep moral problem, the plot holds the reader's attention to the very end. Quite as interesting as the major theme of the story are the minor incidents, for the greater part of the action occurs in gay Newport during "tennis week" and one somewhat unusual feature of the book is the introduction of several real and widely known characters — chiefly tennis stars of international reputation — and actual happenings, which give the tale peculiar realism. As the author is recognized as one of our leading writers on tennis, the scenes at the famous Casino during one of the national championships are particularly well drawn.

While primarily a problem love story, MAN PROPOSES is essentially a book "with a difference." The heroine is a charming Southern girl, decidedly American in her ideas, while John is himself a very real sort of young man, and though possessed of sterling qualities which bring him victoriously through his great test, is no paragon of virtues.

"Man proposes, but God disposes!"—Thomas à Kempis.

"Prithee, why don't you speak for yourself, John?"—Longfellow.

As the story unfolds the reader will appreciate the significance of the above lines.

FICTION

THE VIOLIN LADY

A sequel to "The Fiddling Girl" and "The Proving of Virginia"

By Daisy Rhodes Campbell

Frontispiece in full color from a painting by F. W. Read, and six black and white illustrations by John Goss, decorative jacket, net, $1.25; carriage paid, $1.40

This new story continues the adventures of the once little Fiddling Girl and tells of her triumphs and hardships abroad, of her friends, her love affairs, and finally of Virginia's wedding bells and return to America. The previous two books in this series have been pronounced excellent and uplift stories, but "The Violin Lady" is far ahead of both in interest and charm.

"It is all very bright and gay," says Book News Monthly, "with just enough of pathos to keep it from being frivolous."

"Like its predecessors the book is sure to be particularly interesting to girls and young people. Virginia's story is the story of a charming girl, charmingly told." — Hartford Post.

Or, THE NEW HOME IN THE EAST

A sequel to "A Texas Blue Bonnet," "Blue Bonnet's Ranch Party" and "Blue Bonnet in Boston"

By Caroline E. Jacobs and Lela Horn Richards

Illustrated by John Goss, cloth decorative, $1.50

THIS new story — the fourth of the series — not only furnishes a glimpse into Blue Bonnet's last year of school life at Miss North's select school in Boston, but pictures as well the home life of the quaintly named heroine, for Blue Bonnet has decided to "keep house" for herself and Uncle Cliff in the "dearest of homes" in Brookline. Throughout the entire story she proves herself true blue. Her popularity is not to be wondered at, inasmuch as she is most happy when showering pleasant surprises upon others less fortunate.

"It is a bright, entertaining story, with happy girls, good times, natural development, and a gentle earnestness of general tone." — The Christian Register, Boston.

The previous three volumes in this series have received the endorsement of the American Library Association.

"It is a clean, wholesome, hearty story, well told and full of incident. It is not an impossible creation nor an improbable one. Indeed it is all very lifelike and carries one through experiences that hearten and brighten the day." — Utica Observer.

JUVENILE BOOKS

It is a real event in publishing circles to be able to announce a new "Sandman"

THE SANDMAN: HIS ANIMAL STORIES

By Harry W. Frees

A sequel to "The Sandman: His Farm Stories," "The Sandman: More Farm Stories," "The Sandman: His Ship Stories," "The Sandman: His Sea Stories."

Illustrated from special photographs taken from life by the author. Large 12mo, $1.50

All the mothers and fathers, and uncles and aunts, and big sisters and brothers, and boys and girls who have been wishing for years for a new SANDMAN collection of stories will be glad to hear that although Mr. William J. Hopkins, the creator of the SANDMAN stories, has been unable to undertake the work on a fifth SANDMAN volume, the publishers of the SANDMAN SERIES have discovered a writer who knows little children and the kind of stories they like quite as well as does Mr. Hopkins. This new author's name is Harry W. Frees, and he has written for the SANDMAN SERIES — of course with the sanction of Mr. Hopkins — a series of delightful SANDMAN tales and this time they are all about animals — puppies and kittens, and things like that — and has illustrated his book with the most wonderful pictures, "taken from life."

The Sandman Series has received the endorsements of the American Library Association, the Philadelphia Institute of Child Life, the New York State Syllabus, Illinois State Reading Circle, Indiana State Reading Circle, etc.

JUVENILE BOOKS

CHATTERBOX FOR 1916

The acknowledged "King of all juvenile books!"

Over four hundred pages and with more than two hundred and fifty full-page illustrations, eight of which are in color. 4to, illuminated board covers, $1.25

The publishers wish again to emphasize the fact that CHATTERBOX is not made up of rehashed or old material, but that the stories and illustrations are especially done for the volume and the aim is to get the best regardless of cost. The Annual grows in popular favor yearly and maintains its enviable position as the best juvenile published.

"As a certain man is bound up with the history of a particular epoch in the world's making, so CHATTERBOX is universally bound up in the history of childhood. Between its covers lie unconquered fields of romance, scraps of science, snatches of never-to-be-forgotten verses, countless days and weeks of joy, fun and adventure for both sexes of the juvenile reading public."—Bookseller, Newsdealer and Stationer.

Austin and Sam Houston; "Remember the Alamo"; the Development of the Cattle Ranches; the Great Ranches and a Visit to a Million-acre Ranch; the Growing Cities; the Rehabilitation of Galveston; Along the Troublesome Mexican Border; the Uttermost Corner of Texas; the Wonderful Gulf Coast; the Panhandle; the Black Waxy Belt; the Timber Region; the Llano Estacada, the Disappearing Desert, and the General Development of this Marvellous State.

By Nevin O. Winter

Author of "Mexico and Her People of To-Day," "The Russian Empire of To-Day and Yesterday," etc.

Illustrated in color and in duogravure, boxed, net $3.50; carriage paid, $3.75. The same, three-quarters morocco, boxed, net, $7.00, carriage paid, $7.25. Special Alamo Author's Autographed Edition, $10.00

No such comprehensive book as this one has ever been written about the great and wonderful "Lone Star" State, which is almost as large as the original Thirteen Colonies and really an empire in itself. The account is written from a sympathetic standpoint, and with a clear insight into the history of the State and the characteristics of its development. Because of his intimate knowledge of Mexico and Mexicans, Mr. Winter is able to trace the dissemblances of character in the two races that settled in Texas, the cause that led to their inability to coalesce, and the reason for the supremacy of the Americans. Any one wishing to obtain a clear knowledge of Texas and the Texans cannot do better than procure this book.

A new volume in the SPELL SERIES

THE SPELL OF EGYPT

By Archie Bell

Author of "The Spell of the Holy Land"

Uniform with "The Spell of Belgium," "The Spell of Flanders," etc. With many illustrations in color and in duogravure, boxed, net, $2.50; carriage paid, $2.70. The same, three-quarters morocco, boxed, net, $5.00; carriage paid, $5.20

"Mr. Archie Bell, in adding his latest contribution to the well-known and entertaining SPELL SERIES begins by saying, 'Ours was to be a sentimental and leisurely tour of Egypt.' In other words, the idea was to approach that wonder-world of ancient art and vast historic store in a calm, easy fashion, letting the days lead up to it, in the meanwhile exulting in the anticipation of delights to come presently. . . . Mr. Bell drew deep breaths of inspiration from the very soul of Egypt and he has the gift to share his inspiration with his readers, through his fine sense of atmosphere imparted to his pages in words of colorful description, making pictures that move and glow and change with the quickness of a film passing before a screen. . . . Here we have the Egypt of today — delightful, unique and wonderfully interesting. . . . Then we pass into ancient Egypt — the land of history and letters and art. . . . Now we pass through the cities teeming with life and sound; now we are taken into the vast spaces of the desert. . . . Mr. Bell makes it all very vivid. He has seen much that others have not seen, and he has recorded all his impressions faithfully." — Book News Monthly.

TRAVEL AND DESCRIPTION

A second new volume in the SPELL SERIES

THE SPELL OF OUR PACIFIC ISLANDS

By Isabel Anderson (Mrs. Larz Anderson)

Author of "The Spell of Japan," "The Spell of Belgium," etc.
Uniform with "The Spell of Egypt," etc.

With many illustrations in color and in duogravure, boxed, net, $2.50; carriage paid, $2.70. The same, three-quarters morocco, boxed, net, $5.00; carriage paid, $5.20.

This book, devoted to Hawaii and the Philippines, has, like Mrs. Anderson's other contributions to the Spell Series, a background of personal experiences under rather unusual conditions. She has seen Hawaii both as a resident of a bungalow in Honolulu, and as a passing tourist; and as a member of an official party that was feted during its stay she visited both Hawaii and the Philippine Islands. The first five chapters of the book picture the native Hawaiians, sketch their interesting history, depict the unusual social conditions in the Islands at the present moment, and describe the "spell" that unequaled climate, tropical vegetation, mountain scenery of the wildest and grandest, and magnificent surf breaking over coral reefs never fail to weave over the traveler.

The remainder of the book is taken up with the Philippines. Here is the magic "spell" of the tropics, with the added glamour of Spanish days brought out in the story of the past. The gay life of the capital, the savage head-hunters of the north, the wild and picturesque Moros of the southern islands, are all depicted in these pages. The changes and improvements due to American rule are not forgotten — the sanitation of the cities, the building of roads and bridges, the education of the people. Finally, Mrs. Anderson points out the lessons we have learned, and taught the world, in unselfish colonial administration.

TRAVEL AND DESCRIPTION

A third new volume in the SPELL SERIES

THE SPELL OF SCOTLAND

By Keith Clark

Author of "The Spell of Spain,"
Uniform with "The Spell of Italy," etc.

With many illustrations in color and in duogravure, boxed, net, $2.50; carriage paid, $2.70. The same, three-quarters morocco, boxed, net, $5.00; carriage paid, $5.20.

To the leal Scot there can never be a place like Scotland; even, according to Keith Clark, who has written a second volume in the "Spell Series," if one has been an exile from the Land of Heather for two hundred and fifty years. Still "the wind is blowing bonny in the North Countree." Scotch blood is never diluted. Whatever the blood comminglings of the New World, Scotch is always Scotch. The new "Spell" volume will cover the little-large land, so small in territory, so rich in history and romance and literature. The Highlands and islands, the cities and the lone heaths, are full of treasure-trove for any one who is seeking spiritual ancestry. Scott and Stevenson, Burns and Barrie, Queen Mary and Pet Marjory, Tammas Carlyle and Prince Charlie, the Bonnie Earl o' Moray and the Laird o' Cockpen, are all to be glimpsed as they move through the pages of Scotch history and of this tourist retelling; with modern touches, such as Harry Lauder, and pipers in their ain hame, harvesters from the fields, and fishwives from the Forth. There is ever something heroic in the mood of Scotland. It is the knight among the nations, shedding its blood for many a lost cause, and pouring it out abundantly on its own battlefields, where somehow the lost causes at Flodden and Culloden become perpetual victories for the Scotch spirit. There is an indisputable "spell" to Scotland and Miss Clark has felt it, and makes her readers feel it, too.

When Rambaud's "Russia" appeared it was immediately welcomed with the most flattering approval, and was crowned by the French Academy. The London News commented on it as follows: "A mass of useful information is condensed in this work; it is beyond question the best complete history of Russia which has appeared. It reflects great credit upon the author, and well deserves to be studied by all who care to instruct themselves in Russian history."

NEW EDITION

CAPTAIN FRACASSE

Translated from the French of Gautier
Illustrated by Victor A. Searles, decorative jacket, $1.50

Owing to the steady demand for this famous historical romance the publishers have decided to issue a new edition.

This new edition, which will undoubtedly please the old readers of this fascinating story and strongly appeal to new readers, will have, in addition to the ten splendid illustrations by Mr. Victor A. Searles, an elaborate jacket with an illustration in full color by Frank T. Merrill, whose excellent work has won for him a place in the front rank of artists.

The Saint Paul Pioneer Press said of CAPTAIN FRACASSE: "There is a real satisfaction in turning from the tremendously modern romances produced by the score at present to this genuine old fantasy of love, adventure and heroism. It is a belated blossom of the romantic period in fiction, — not a forced and artificial bloom put forth in response to popular demand. As literature it is admirable, being exquisite in style and thoroughly refined and consistent in treatment. It is one of those things which the best French writers do so well that they inspire an eternal wonder as to why they are not done frequently."

The Phonographic Institute Loose-Leaf Tablet. This tablet possesses the following advantages, which make it the most convenient and most economic shorthand note-book for the use of shorthand writers:

1. It lies open on the table perfectly flat, there being no fold in the paper. 2. The paper is held in the cover by metal arches, strong and permanent in construction—superior to rubber elastic bands, which quickly decay, and to tapes, which are inconvenient both in turning the page and in removing a portion of the sheets. 3. The sheets can be removed and replaced quickly and easily. Any one or more of the sheets may be removed without disturbing the rest. 4. The page can be turned with perfect ease and convenience, as the polisht metal rings create no friction. 5. The triply-perforated sheets may be readily bound with tapes when removed from the tablet. In this way the notes of any single piece of work may be permanently preserved intact. 6. When notes are transcribed the tablet may be doubled back on itself and inserted in any kind of copy-holder, just as any other note-book, or it may be used itself as a copy-holder by standing it upright. 7. Perforated paper for refilling may be bought in any quantity, ruled with single or double lines, and suitable for use with pen or pencil. 8. The tablet is strongly made and will last for years.

N. B.—This tablet is especially adapted to the use of schools of shorthand. For this purpose it is provided with four guide-cards that separate the sheets into four divisions—Copying Exercises, Writing Exercises, Dictation Exercises, and Corrections. By the use of the tablet the student has his work in one compact cover and the guide-cards enable him to turn instantly to any of its divisions. When the student has finisht his school course the guide-cards may be removed and the tablet is ready for his regular daily use as a professional shorthand writer.

ISAAC PITMAN SHORTHAND

HOLDS THE WORLD'S RECORD FOR SPEED AND ACCURACY

"THERE is always room at the top," is the old and true adage. But in the ladder that leads to attainment the perspective is reversed and the rungs become farther apart as the top is reached. The poorly equipped will reach no higher than the level of their attainments, and so is it with shorthand writers and shorthand systems.

The ISAAC PITMAN SYSTEM has demonstrated its unquestionable superiority over all others by winning the PRINCIPAL HONORS in the following ten International Contests:

FIRST INTERNATIONAL SHORTHAND SPEED CONTEST, Baltimore, 1906. The Miner Gold Medal, the only trophy awarded, won by Sidney H. Godfrey.

SECOND INTERNATIONAL SHORTHAND SPEED CONTEST, Boston, 1907. Miner Gold Medal, won by Sidney H. Godfrey, and Eagan International Cup, won by Miss Nellie M. Wood.

THIRD INTERNATIONAL SHORTHAND SPEED CONTEST, Philadelphia, 1908. Eagan International Cup, won for the SECOND TIME, by Miss Nellie M. Wood.

FOURTH INTERNATIONAL CONTEST, Providence, 1909. Eagan International Cup won for the THIRD TIME AND PERMANENTLY by Miss Nellie M. Wood.

SEVENTH INTERNATIONAL CONTEST, Buffalo, 1911. Adams Accuracy Trophy won by Miss Nellie M. Wood, and Shorthand Writer Cup won by Nathan Behrin. The only trophies offered.

EIGHTH INTERNATIONAL CONTEST, New York, 1912. The Shorthand Writer Cup and Gold Medal, won for the SECOND TIME, by Nathan Behrin.

NINTH INTERNATIONAL CONTEST, Chicago, 1913. The Shorthand Writer Cup and Gold Medal, won for the THIRD TIME AND PERMANENTLY by Nathan Behrin. In this contest, Mr. Behrin established a NEW WORLD'S RECORD for ACCURACY of 98.3% in the three dictations of 200, 240 and 280 words per minute.

TENTH INTERNATIONAL CONTEST, Atlantic City, N. J., 1914. Nathan Behrin again won the HIGHEST AWARD —Gold Medal—in the 280 word per minute test, with 98.6% Accuracy.

It is worthy of note that all the trophies in the above contests have been won by Pitmanic writers.

literary articles and business letters are presented for study and practice; (3) facsimile typewritten letters—a new feature; (4) suggestions to the stenographer by prominent business men—actual letters prepared especially for this book; (5) the literary articles and business correspondence were carefully edited and made grammatically correct; (6) " commercial jargon " has been eliminated; (7) the arrangement of dictation material forces speed without excessive drill: it enables the learner to acquire stenographic efficiency in a limited time.

A NEW METHOD OF GRADING DICTATION BOOKS

By Meyer E. Zinman, M.A.,
Bay Ridge High School, Brooklyn, N. Y.

It has long been recognized that, in order to do efficient work in the classroom, dictation on difficult matter must be given during almost the entire course. To meet the demand for a good dictation book, Advanced Speed Practice was issued, and it is with pleasure that I wish to state that it has been most helpful to me. In using this work, however, the teacher meets with one difficulty, and that is that the speed matter is not graded. It is to obviate this difficulty that I have prepared this article.

In grading matter for shorthand practice, one is perplexed as to what method he should use. Shall he grade according to the vocabulary, difficulty of outline or number of syllables per word? The first two methods have been used in the past with success. (For good examples of grading according to vocabulary, see The Student's Practice Book, and Pitman's Progressive Dictator. For examples of grading according to outline difficulty, see Practice Letters for Beginners in Shorthand and Letter Dictation from the Beginning.) I have here adopted an entirely new method of grading, that is, according to the number of syllables per word.

This was suggested to me by an article in which the writer stated that the English Championship Speed Tests were far more difficult than the American, because the English tests had an intensity of about 1.7 syllables per word and the American about 1.3. This means that in every one hundred words the English writers had to report 40 syllables (or about 30 words) more than the American writers. At once I perceived the reason why students wrote one passage with ease and another, dictated at the same speed, with great difficulty or not at all.

This difficulty I met with the Advanced Speed Practice. It is an excellent book, and contains the variety of matter and extensive vocabulary necessary in a good dictation book. It is not, however, graded. One passage contains matter that may be taken down at the rate of 80 words a minute and the next one cannot be written at 50 words per minute.

I have, therefore, arranged this work according to the average number of syllables per word in each passage. I do not know whether it will be a successful method of grading a dictation book; but if it is, I shall feel that I have added a little along the lines of stenographic research work. At any rate, I shall be amply repaid if I have, in any way, been of aid to the users of Advanced Speed Practice.

Grievous estate of the wicked. PSALMS. Persuasion to trust in God.

14 I behaved myself as though he had been my friend or brother: I bowed down heavily, as one that mourneth for his mother.
15 But in mine adversity they rejoiced, and gathered themselves together: yea, the abjects gathered themselves together against me, and I knew it not; they did tear me, and ceased not:

9 For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light shall we see light.
10 O continue thy lovingkindness unto them that know thee; and thy righteousness to the upright in heart.
11 Let not the foot of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked remove me.
12 There are the workers of iniquity fallen: they are cast down, and shall not be able to.

Causes of offence ROMANS 14, 15 to be avoided.

Lord he doth not regard it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks.
7 For none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself.
8 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's.
9 For to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living.

Christ healeth ST. LUKE, 7 the centurion's servant.

34 And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? for sinners also lend to sinners, to receive as much again.
35 But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kind unto the unthankful and to the evil.
36 Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful.
37 Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven:
38 Give, and it shall be given unto you;

NOW when he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entered into Capernaum.
2 And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die.
3 And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant.
4 And when they came to Jesus, they besought him instantly, saying, That he was worthy for whom he should do this:

Cambridge Teachers' Bibles

"TEACHERS' HELPS THAT ARE REAL AIDS"

CAMBRIDGE BIBLICAL ENCYCLOPEDIA

These Bibles contain the Biblical Encyclopedia, based on the Cambridge Companion to the Bible, the work of the most eminent scholars at the Cambridge University, the object of which is to provide Sunday-school teachers and other students with a concise book of reference to the Bible.

In the Encyclopedia much useful matter has been compressed into a small space and the arrangement of helps in alphabetical form will be found most convenient for the purpose of ready reference.

CAMBRIDGE CONCORDANCE

included in all Cambridge Teachers' Bibles, is most practicable and contains all important references.

CAMBRIDGE CENTRE-COLUMN REFERENCES

Have been re-edited and revised throughout and in this edition full use has been made of the late Prebendary Scrivener's invaluable work on the References which was first published in the Cambridge Paragraph Bible.

CAMBRIDGE INDIA PAPER

For whiteness, opaqueness, thinness and toughness, the new Cambridge India Paper is generally declared by experts to be the equal of, if not superior to, any thin paper now used in Bibles.

Every Phœnician altar had an ashĕrah near it; in A.V. the word is often translated "green trees" or "grove." This "nature worship" became associated with gross immorality, and so the practice of setting up asheroth was forbidden by Hebrew prophets, Dt. 16. 21; cf. ASSYRIA and BABYLONIA were the two great Eastern empires before which all the old states of Syria and Palestine fell. We learn their history partly from the Bible narrative and also from contemporary monuments written in cuneiform characters and recently deciphered.

Babylonia or Shinar (Gen. 10. 10) is the alluvial country on the lower course of the Euphrates and Tigris, of which Babel or Babylon was the chief city. Assyria, or Ashur, occupied the Tigris valley to the north of Babylonia. Its centre lay on the left bank of the Tigris, where the great city of Nineveh stood, opposite Mosul. Babylon and Nineveh were long rivals, but they had a common civilisation, of which the southern alluvium was the original home. Their language was Semitic, but in the southern country the Semites seem to have been pre-

Christian Life Teachers' Bible

The five great themes, SIN, CHRIST, FAITH, LOVE and SALVATION, may be said to form the heart of all Bible truth. The choicest passages referring to these subjects have been brought together from all parts of the Bible, each subject in its own color (as noted below) and placed in the front of the book.

By orderly steps the reader can now follow the very language of Scripture as it first pictures SIN (scarlet) and then puts over against it CHRIST (gold) and Faith (blue) on man's part, leading to LOVE (purple) and SALVATION (green).

ACTS 18

9 Then spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace:
10 For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city.
11 And he continued there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.
12 ¶ And when Găl'lĭ-ō was the deputy of A-chā'-ĭa, the Jews made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the judgment seat,
13 Saying, This fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.
14 And when Paul was now about to open his mouth, Găl'lĭ-o said unto the Jews, If it were a matter of wrong or wicked lewdness, O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you
15 But if it be a question of words and names, and of your law, look ye to it; for I will be no judge of such matters.
16 And he drave them from the judgment seat.
but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews.
20 When they desired him to tarry longer time with them, he consented not;
21 But bade them farewell, saying, I must by all means keep this feast that cometh in Je-ru'sā-lĕm: but I will return again unto you, if God will. And he sailed from Eph'ĕ-sŭs.
22 And when he had landed at Cæs-rē'a, and gone up, and saluted the church, he went down to An'tĭ-ŏch.
23 And after he had spent some time there, he departed, and went over all the country of Gā-lā'tĭa and Phrȳg'ĭ-a in order, strengthening all the disciples.
24 ¶ And a certain Jew named A-pŏl'los, born at Al-ĕx-ăn'drĭ-a, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to Eph'ĕ-sŭs.
25 This man was instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, knowing only the baptism of John.
26 And he began to speak

240 THE COMMUNION.

That these Sentences may be used on any other occasion of Public Worship, when the alms of the People are to be received.

REMEMBER the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive. Acts xx. 35.

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. St. Matt. v. 16.

Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. St. Matt. vii. 21.

Zacchæus stood forth, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have done any wrong to any man, I restore fourfold. St. Luke xix. 8.

Who goeth a warfare at any time of his own cost? Who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? Or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock? 1 Cor. ix. 7.

GOD, that madest earth and heaven,
Darkness and light;
Who the day for toil hast given,
For rest the night:
May Thine angel-guards defend us,
Slumber sweet Thy mercy send us,
Holy dreams and hopes attend us,
This livelong night.

2 Guard us waking, guard us sleeping,
And, when we die,
May we in Thy mighty keeping,
All peaceful lie:
When the last dread call shall wake us,
Do not Thou, our God, forsake us,
But to reign in glory take us
With Thee on high.

Revolutionary Defenses in Rhode Island. An historical account of the fortifications and beacons erected during the American Revolution, with muster rolls of companies stationed along the shores of Narragansett Bay, with maps, plans and illustrations. Cloth, 8vo. $2.25 net.

Muster rolls and company lists containing the names of more than seven hundred officers and enlisted men, many of which have hitherto been inaccessible, are here printed. The work is profusely illustrated with plans and views of old earthworks, together with illustrations of the various styles of equipments used by the patriots of '76, and fac-similes of the enlistment papers of the Continental Army.

Tax List of the Town of Providence During the Administration of Sir Edward Andros and his Council, 1686-1689. Cloth, 60 pp., 8vo., Price, $1.00 net. The edition is limited to TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY numbered copies.

Among the rate bills is the list of polls for 1688, which contains the names of all males sixteen years of age and upwards living in Providence in August of that year; practically a census of the town. For the genealogist and historian this volume contains material of the greatest value on account of the great number of names which these lists contain, besides showing the amount of the tax assessment in each case.

The returns of ratable property form a study by themselves, for they tell in the quaint language of the colonist what they possess, and therefore shed much light on the conditions of the times. For a study of this episode in New England colonial history this work is invaluable.

ISHAM, NORMAN M., and BROWN, ALBERT F.

Early Connecticut Houses. A historical and architectural study. Cloth, square octavo, with map, 7 plates and 115 illustrations. $7.50 net.

"There is a completeness of record, a successful attempt to tell the whole story as far as it is important it should be told, upon which it is hard to comment in terms too favorable. Each house is presented in a small carefully made drawing, mainly in outline, without the slightest attempt at artistic effect; and the more artistic on that account, as revealing the work of architectural art without the interference of the draftsman's fancies. It is clear that these little drawings (stated to have been made with the aid of photographs) and the plans and explanatory sections are as trustworthy as it is possible to make drawings of the kind."—The Nation.
